Lake Braddock has taken on a new look with the addition of landscaping.

Finished, the word applied to Lake Braddock Secondary School, concerns itself with the concrete and steel structure. This word, finished, hardly described student life, which grew along with school activities. Hammers pounding with the occasional hum of drills had been replaced with the constant murmur of students working together. Puzzle pieces started to interlock with the completion of the school.

Frequently seen last year were bulldozers and unfinished fields which have been replaced by hockey fields and baseball diamonds.

Creativity is displayed in all types of art classes.

... IN THIS BIG WORLD THAT WE ALL FACE.

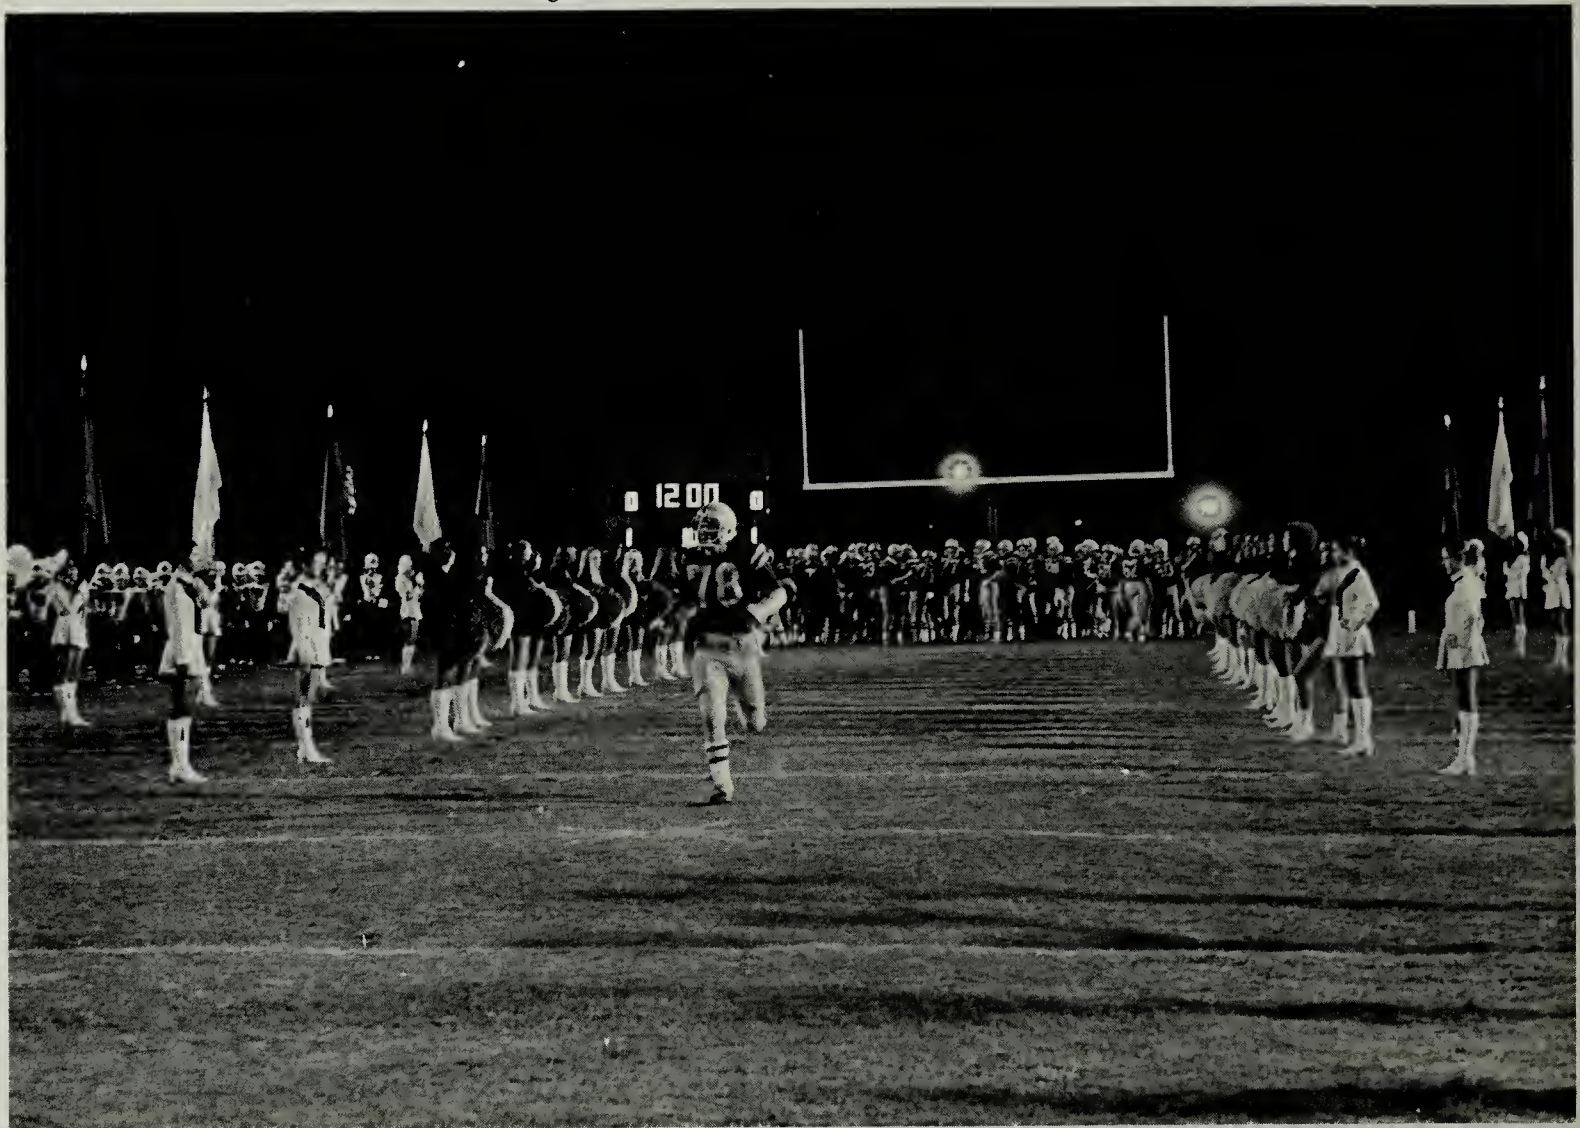

Our school survived the second year. For 180 days, one school year, time was needed for us to adjust to new elements of exposure. Our minds were opened to new levels of teaching, which we found bewildering. Being a school for the individual, we found it difficult to relate to these new concepts. But sometimes things change.

During some free time, Mr. Garner enjoys talking with Amy Miller, Tammy Love, Susie Digriario and Mike Leda.

Varsity teams became an addition to this years' sports. Yet, they differed from ordinary Varsity requirements. No previous experience was necessary to play and senior class status was non-existent. Each major sport provided newer and stiffer competition over the previous year, but we began to show our marks as an established Fairfax County School. Additional members to the coaching staff helped increase numbers of enthusiastic players. Extra facilities have been constructed to provide more complete football and track coverage and expanded sports opportunities. Participation was seen in the new press box and outdoor basketball courts.

1976-82 not only showed the years a student graduated, they represented a new step of life. The years reflected both the academic and growth differences between a junior and a seventh grader, yet this contrast also pointed out similarities. The scholastic range in the grades put the students at opposite ends, where juniors, like seventh graders, were preparing to start a different step.

Sometimes it's hard to get a team to function with coordination, but the Junior Varsity Baseball team managed to with ease. During the baseball season, the first for Lake Braddock, the JV team ran a record of 17 wins and four losses. They placed second in the Gunston District.

Starting with a 4-3 win over Hammond, they began the season with six consecutive wins. As time went on, losses were few and far between. Only four teams won against Lake Braddock: Mount Vernon (twice), Hayfield and Chantilly once each. As to Chantilly, Lake Braddock came back to beat them 6-2.

Kick and Win

Soccer is a sport that requires a great deal of team work. It takes the knowledge of controlling the ball, knowing when to pass to a teammate, how to get around an opponent, being able to score when the moment is right, and it takes a goalie that can hold the other team to as few goals as possible.

Coach Linder's team had it all, but it took the four pre-season games to put it together, as the Bruin's Soccer team ended it's season with 9-1-1 record. This was quite an achievement as they played only one other J.V. team, the other ten were Varsity A and B teams.

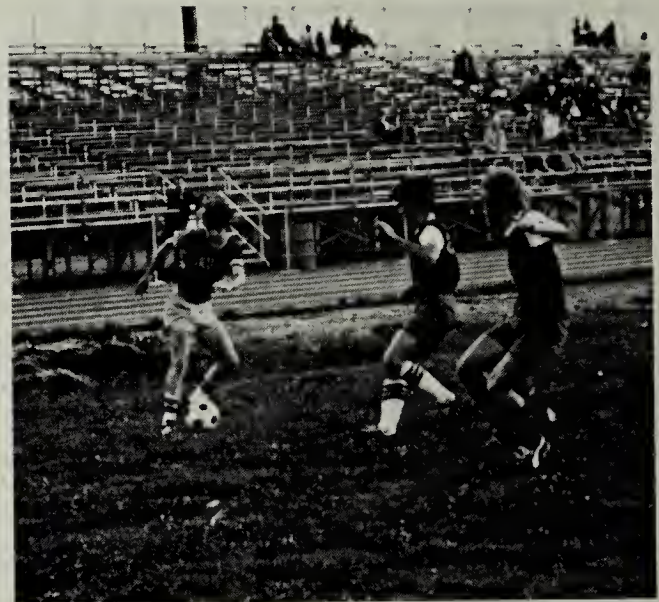

With perfect balance, Carl McNiff gets around his opponent.

. No Problem

Although field space was not to be found at Lake Brad-dock, the 1974 Girls Junior Varsity Softball team ad-justed well. Adopting a neighboring elementary school's field as their home field, the team began a win-ning season with a 12-5 victory over Edison. The team consisted of 25 girls and three managers. But past ex-perience was at a minimum with only four girls ever having played high school ball before. Once again hard work and practice paid off with a final season record of nine wins and two losses. This team record earned them second place in district. Outstanding con-tributions to the team were made by Audrey Perkins with four home runs, Jenni Lawhon, catcher and Cindy Carlson, pitcher.

Boy's Track

Over one third of the boys in Lake Braddock spring sports are in track. However, track is the least publicized sport of the three.

Each event takes individual coaching and training. Dashes require high knee lift, free swinging arms, and a forward lean. Consistency in keeping a precise rhythm is needed for good hurdling. Long jumping requires strong leg and abdominal muscles, and running speed.

Practice and determination proved worthwhile as the Lake Braddock J.V. Track Team placed first in the District. Now, that's one step closer for our Fast Stepping Sport.

Raynes Runners

Runners take your mark, set, go . . . and that's just what the girls track team did. Consisting only of freshmen and sophomores, the girls competed on a Varsity level and did well in district, regionals and state events. Enthusiasm, spirit, and will power could be seen in all girls even though only a few had previous running or field event experience. Their coach, Miss Diane Raynes, kept them busy with weight room and rhythm exercises, while the managers, Debbie Dougherty, and Betsy Cocke, helped keep the teams bright smiles during those 80 degree days. The district meet was held May 2nd and 3rd at Ft. Hunt. This kept 18 of the track team's girls working out daily after completion of the regular season. The work proved worthwhile for Lake Braddock placed well in the high jump, Jeanne Lull in the 80 yard hurdles, and Julie Gauthey in the 880 yard run. This ended Lake Braddocks first girls track year, and they are looking forward to an even better one next year.

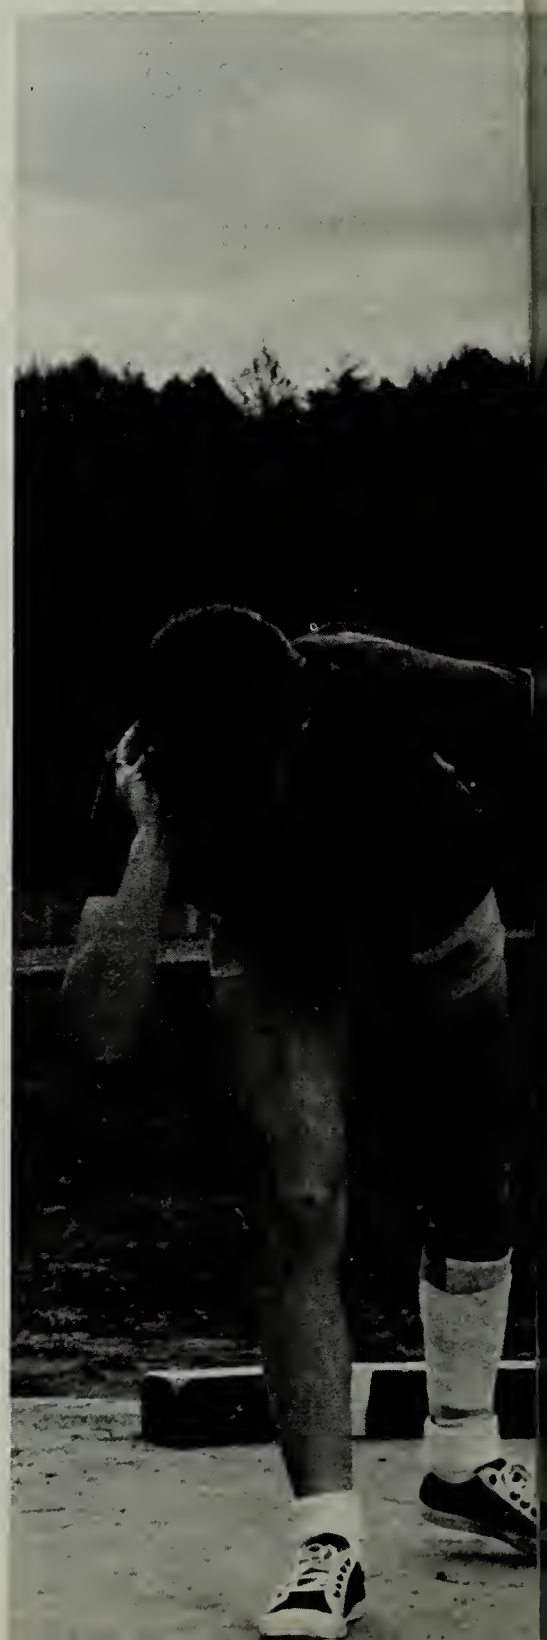

Sheer determination pushes Julie Gauthey on to the finish line.

First Year Undefeated

The Boy's Tennis Team met each team in the district and handed them a defeat. Working on a J.V. schedule didn't seem to be enough as they beat two Varsity teams.

Some of the boys represented Lake Braddock in the Gunston District. Bill Crutchfield went into the semi-finals and lost. Mike Belt, Bill Crutchfield and Ed Morris lost their district matches.

All the matches proved successful but there were a few outstanding records. Ed Morris was undefeated in singles. Bill Crutchfield and Mike Belt each only lost one match in singles. In doubles, Bill Crutchfield and Mike Belt were undefeated.

The positions changed many times throughout the season. This gave more people a chance to play in the matches. The most noticeable changes were in doubles. So many new combinations were popping up. There was a big change in the singles order. Mike Belt (third singles) beat Bill Crutchfield (first singles).

Swinging Into Action

Gaining experience through losing some tough matches helped mold the golf team to producing a 4 and 5 season. Although lack of facilities detracted from practice time, our team managed to smooth out a few kinks, which showed by Gray Hamilton's placing fifth in District competition and missing State by a meager two strokes. Mr. David Webber remained optimistic for seasons to come and maintained, "We have a lot of depth."

No Support—Why?

Boys' Gymnastics was one of the least supported sports of our high school. One reason was the tension of the performer. He makes his points and nobody can help him. The support was almost nothing compared to any other major sport. The team of Mike Worth, Steve Hackney, Rocky Struct, Kelly Higgins, Jim Underwood along with Coach Bud Clements tried to figure it out. Performing on the pommel horse, floor exercises, rings, vaulting, parallel bars, and high bar just didn't please the student body.

Bruins Charge Into Varsity

The rain and wet field hindered the first game of the season, but the Bruins played on. After Chantilly acquired their score of seven points in the third quarter, Lake Braddock came back with a touchdown by Bill Crutchfield. The two point conversion was unsuccessful to end the game 7-6. During the second game of the season, offense and defense proved to be successful as Lake Braddock beat Edison 32-6. Touchdowns were by: two touchdown runs by Bill Crutchfield, two long passes to John Webster, and a pass interception by Mike Galston. A much harder battle was provided by the Spartans, but Bruins came out ahead 14-6. Lake Braddock touchdowns were again from Bill Crutchfield and Bill Lloyd's two field goals accounted for the Bruins 14 points.

Spirit Equals Wins

Lee proved to be no match for Lake Braddock as Lee was trampled 33-6. The Saint Stephans game got off to a bad start for Lake Braddock. After the Bruins fumbled the kickoff, Saint Stephans recovered the ball and made a touchdown. From then on Saint Stephans held the game with a final score of 14-0. Lake Braddock first shutout, 27-0, fell to Fort Hunt. The Bruins completely dominated in every department. Osborn proved to be a tough game, but still they fell to the Bruins 13-6. While the Woodson—Lake Braddock saw a lot of changes in the line-up, the Bruins squeezed by 15-14. The new quarterback was Scott Billak, and Chuck Mangum was a receiver.

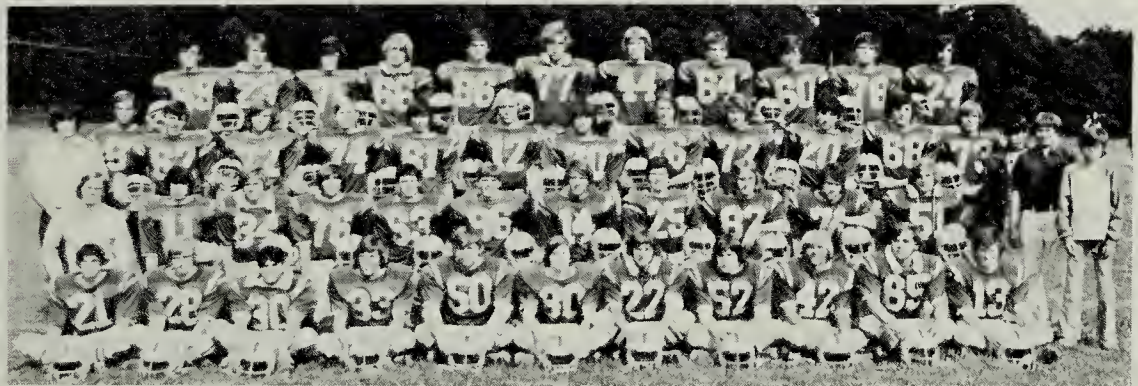

Leaping to the goal line, Bill Crutchfield gets the first varsity touchdown against Chantilly.

Fall Festival weekend began with an exciting victory over Chantilly. Chantilly, on the first possession, scored a touchdown. Dave Patten tied up the score. Just two minutes later, Chantilly broke away for seven points. Because of Chuck Mangum's passing Bruin offense fought down to within the five yard line in the closing of the fourth quarter. Dave Patten went over for a touchdown with 18 seconds left. For the winning points, Chuck Mangum threw a two point conversion pass to Scott Billack in the end zone, to make the score 15-14. The last game ended in a win for Lake Braddock against George Mason 7-6.

It's A Team Effort

Although there were many outstanding contributions to the J.V. Football team, any game won was due to a team effort. Under coaches Charley Thompson and Dale Whittler, the Bruins exhibited a strong defense, and worked well together. In all games won by the Bruins, the tough defense held all opponents to under six points. Games lost by the Bruins were usually due to not being totally prepared. Still, they had a successful season, bringing us one step closer to distinction.

Pain and Practice Pays Off

When the season first opened many boys came out to try for positions. A lot of pain and practice was shown by the boys to make it a good season. So many had gone out for the team that it meant there would be a couple of guys to each position. Who played in the game the most was determined by his ability to play the game. According to the coaches the Frosh played a great and satisfying season. Their two main objectives were accomplished. Letting as many boys as possible play and WINNING! There was one game against Hayfield where they didn't just win, but was the most exciting game of the season with the Bruins winning in the last 18 seconds. A special thanks goes to Henry Bruno, Bud Mayo, Don Youngblood, John Haire, Rick Lindner, and head coach Bob Dinan for doing such an outstanding job of coaching.

Spirit Makes Unity

From the beginning of practice, the Girl's Tennis Team knew it was going to be different this year. Having much better players this year, the team also possessed an unbeatable spirit which lasted throughout the season. Determined not to repeat last year's embarrassment (no wins), the girls united to secure second place in the Gunston with eight wins and one loss.

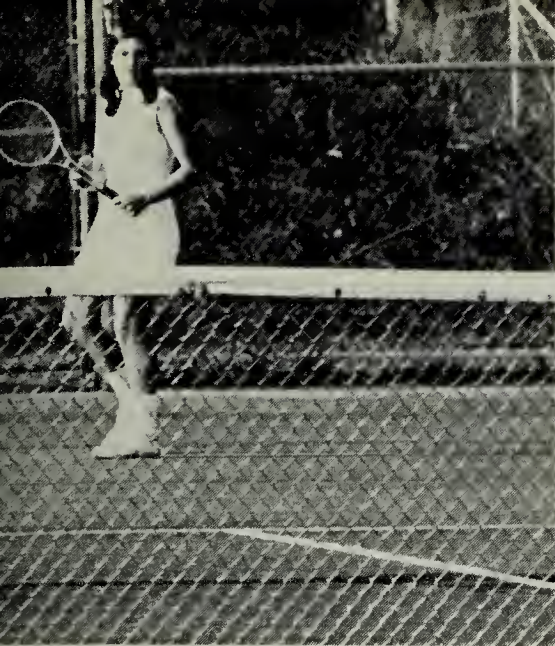

The season began with a six-three victory over Edison, and the team quickly followed by defeating Lee, eight-one. Lake Braddock squeezed by Oakton, five-four, and not pleased with their efforts, won two consecutive eight-one matches against Falls Church and Hayfield. The first and only defeat was brought by Fort Hunt, seven-two. Then the Tennis Team walked over Groveton, nine-zero. The wins over Mount Vernon, six-three and West Springfield, five-one, provided Lake Braddock a second place. Altogether, Lake Braddock went to Districts and came home with third place.

Spunk & Spirit Spark the Season

Even though the records were a little disappointing, the varsity field hockey team was enthusiastically working to improve and perfect their skills in team playing. The varsity started off well but faltered when it met some of the older, more experienced teams of the Gunston District. Miss Kathy Patton coached the team. Playing a varsity schedule without seniors was one of the handicaps they experienced. The team plans to attend a camp this summer at Poncono, which will give them even more practice and experience. This will bring us one step closer to a complete varsity team with seniors.

Working hard, Bylinda Berry tries to get ahead of her opponent.

While trying to score against the Chantilly Chargers, Barbara Carmody, Noreen O'Kane and Lisa Batholomew charge the goal.

A Push Towards A Goal

Each position required different skills. The center, innards, and wings controlled the ball and tried to score. Halfbacks assisted the front line along with intercepting the ball. Defending the goal were the fullbacks. The team would not be complete without a goalie. All these made up the Lake Braddock Junior Varsity Hockey Team. They fared well throughout the season with only two returning players. Key games were Lee and Edison because of our previous losses to them in softball and basketball. The Lee game ended in a win for the Bruins and the Edison game ended in a tie.

Passing to Pam Bowers, Peggy Hutchinson helps get the ball downfield.

Controlling the ball past a Chantilly player is Donna Bryne.

It's A Lonely Sport

Cross Country is a lonely sport. Only but a few students supported the meets. Our students prefer the well-known sports so Cross Country is left to run their two and a half mile course in hopes that someone is watching.

Sticking together is one problem the Cross Country Team had. Some would creep ahead while others stayed behind. Jim Shea well earned his Most Valuable Player by coming in first in the Williamsburg Invitational. John Connors won the most miles run and Scott Roberts received most Improved Player.

Trying to keep the lead with the football players seemed hard for Scott Roberts.

Finishing the course is Marty Moke.

Success Steps To Silent

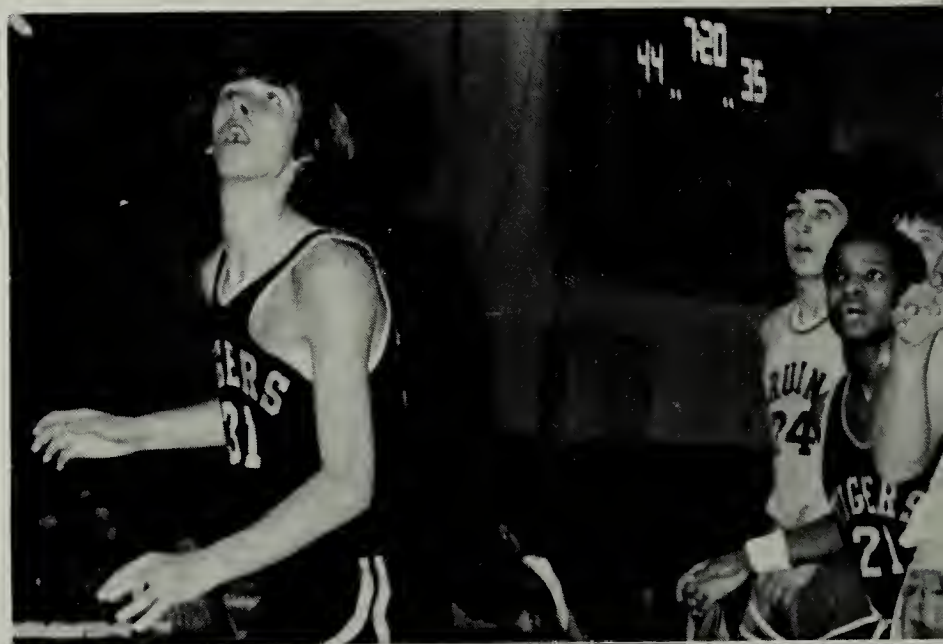

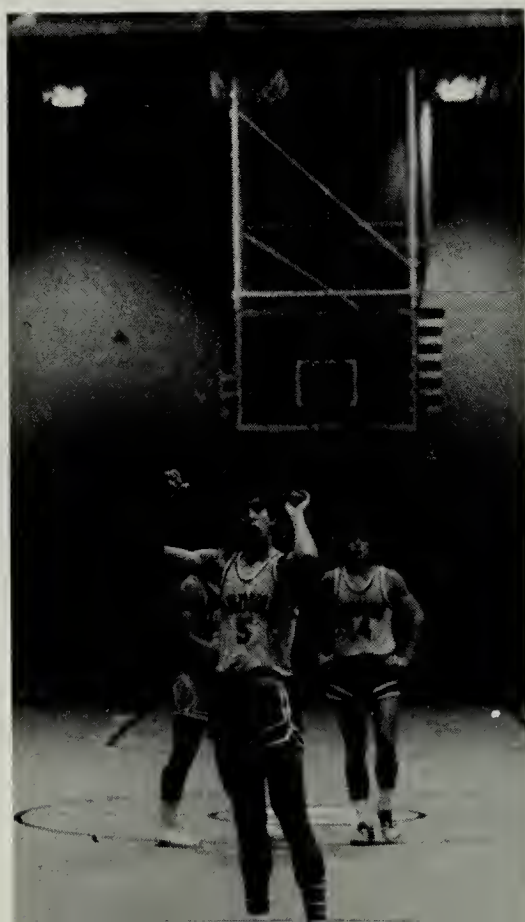

The Lake Braddock Varsity Basketball Team had been expected to win no more than two games—according to the odds makers. However, the Bruins soon proved to be more than just an 'easy picking' for the teams in Northern Virginia. Winning nine games, and showing well even in those games lost, the first year varsity team learned much and was quite successful in competition.

At the line is Ken French.

Outjumping Herndon, Bobby Steele goes in for the lay-up.

Shooting for two is Ken Holroyd.

Leaping for the basket, Scott Richardson sinks two points.

Thinking about strategy is Coach Hensley.

Stretching to make two points is Joe Barnett.

Ticking Together ?

Sometimes the Junior Varsity Basketball Team found themselves having to dribble twice, jump higher, or hustle more to make it. These skills didn't seem to tick together, for a final season record of five wins and twelve losses. Great amounts of determination were in each player, although as a team it sometimes seemed to be lacking. Each teammate produced his individual efforts, with important contributions from David Bartz, Marty Nickley, and Robbie Hughes.

First In Teamwork and District

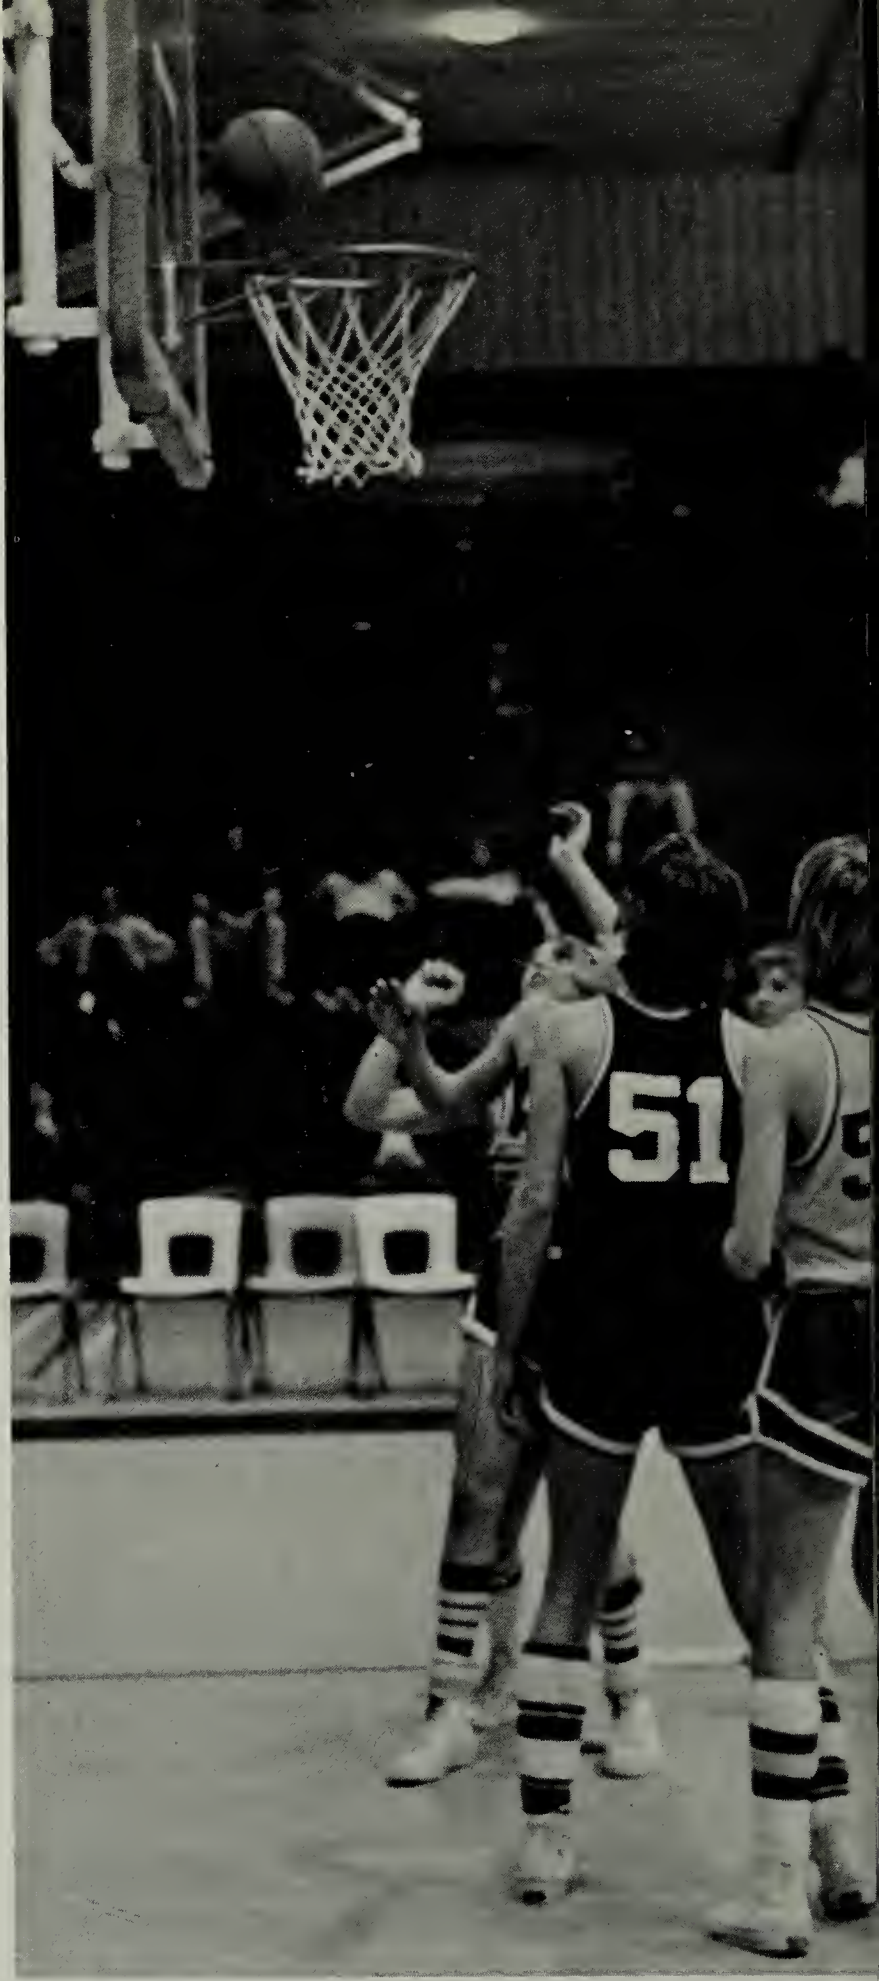

Freshman Basketball, though they are perhaps one of the least heard of teams around the school, built up a seasonal record to be proud of. They ended the season with a 12 win-2 loss record, and placed first in the Gunston District.

Beginning with a spare 31-29 victory over Groveton, the team started the season with 4 wins. This streak was broken by Edison, who left with a 1 point win, 40-41. The team came back to oust Fort Hunt, 68-52, and to run off with a 75-57 victory over Hayfield.

The basketball team suffered its second and last defeat of the year to Groveton in another 1 point loss, 48-49. Then the team continued the season with a 43-40 win over Lee, and creamed Mount Vernon, 77-26. The team won the remaining 4 games of the season, bringing the total to 12 wins and 2 losses.

Executing a jumpshot is Jeff Theising.

Waiting for the rebound from a missed shot is Ed Grundler.

Capturing an extra point for the team, Pat Mulvihill shoots a successful foul shot.

A 7-7 Triumph

Competing and winning against some of the other teams that carried as much youth as ourselves provided an inspiring meaning. When we took on equals, our strength and experience could win out. Alternating through 4 months of day and night practice with the guys' teams, the hard work pulled through to winning 4 out of the last 5 remaining games.

One oddity colored the season, though. By virtue of winning the last game, the chance of getting to District playoffs was close at hand, but slipped through by a meager game in the standings. "Batting" .500 on the year kept us in contention up until the last game, and this was one triumph worth noting.

Breaking away momentarily, Amy Geithner puts Edison on the run.

Getting a step on 2 Lee opponents, Theresa Kratz gains the advantage under our basket.

Receiving new strategy from Coach Raynes during a timeout in the season opener, against Lee, our Bruins found the loss a hard-fought contest.

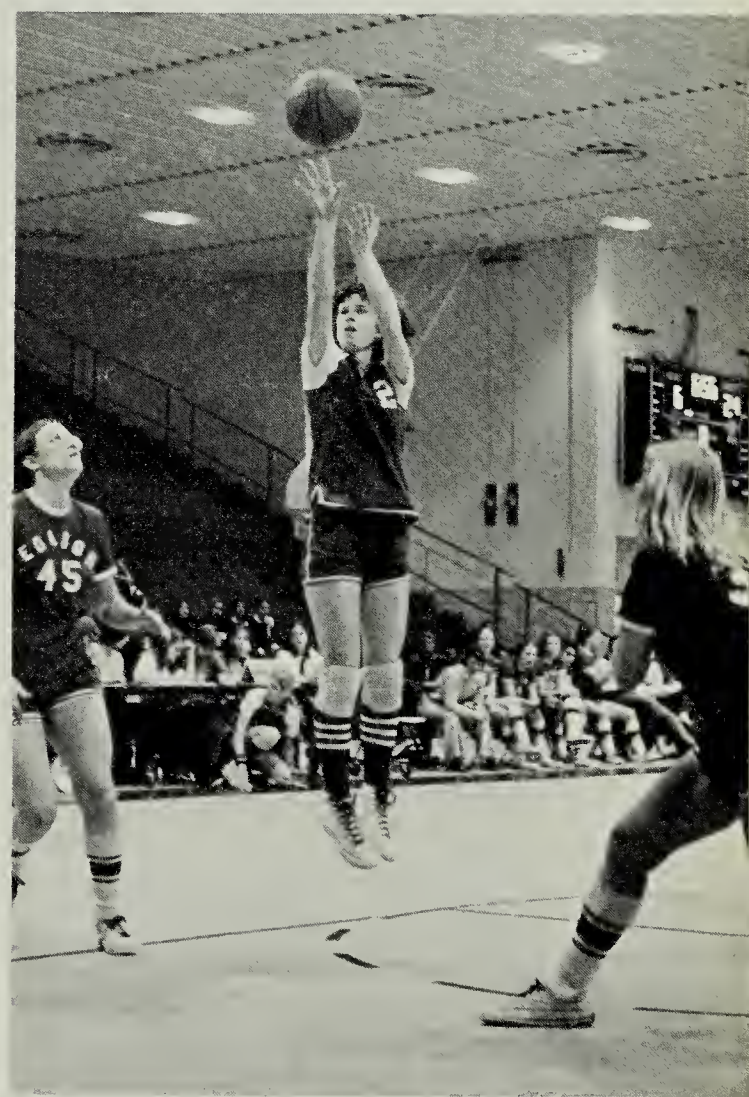

Delaying in the air, Jenni Lawhon uses that extra second to get the clear shot that left Hayfield on the ground 37-32.

Getting It Together

Gathering together a group of 12 freshmen and 4 sophomores provided a breeding ground for learning on the JV squad. Living through a season of 8 wins and 6 losses, we came away with a greater sense of pride and belonging. Even though it took a whole season to get it going for the whole team, the end product reflected a group that was unified in many ways on and outside of the team. Ending up with a new coach that "knew the ropes" and a crew that knew how to rally together, we stepped up one on the ladder of competition.

Second In Student's Eyes...

As wrestling jumps to varsity, many people let the wrestlers and their fantastic record slip and go unnoticed. But some people asked why.

A survey was taken and some people were asked which they preferred between basketball and wrestling. With 72% preferring basketball, the reasons given were more appeal or didn't know anything about wrestling. Maybe if more chances were opened for people to learn about wrestling, the 16% (people who preferred wrestling) might grow.

Coming Between Good Teams

Caught between two other successful wrestling teams, varsity and freshman, the junior varsity seemed to be working from the middle. Glorious victories and agonizing defeats came intertwined for the junior varsity team with a 5-4-1 season. Along with the regular season, there was a Junior Varsity Wrestling Tournament. First place winners were Adam Rubin and Matt Klaren. Second place winners were Phil Case and Mark Hackney. A fourth place went to Bret VanVranken. Matt Klaren received the Most Valuable Wrestler Award at the tournament.

A Flicker Of Light In The Dark

A small light was in the dark for the Freshman Wrestling Team. Starting a team with no one on the team didn't seem to be difficult for Coach Sengstack. There was a lot of support in participants for the team but from the spectators, it was dark. The flicker of light started with the win over Groveton and began to grow to a 5-0-1 season. Unlike other districts, the Gunston District does have a freshman-junior varsity wrestling tournament. The tournament lets the wrestlers see how they rank with the whole district. First place was awarded to: Dave Campbell, Mike Hull, John Stewart, and Ray Greg. Seconds went to: Ron Komornik and Howard Clark. Setting The Bruin Pace

The jump from Junior Varsity to Varsity Track was a tough, but important step for the Bruins. Unfortunately, the season record did not reflect the improvement on the part of the team. School records were broken and bettered time and again throughout the season.

Track was a demanding sport, and one had to work hard in order to excel. For Lake Braddock, many people, including John Webster, Jon Scott, Dan Huskerson, Mike Galston, Jim Shea, Lane Scheiber, John Pagett, and Louis Affront were setting the Bruin pace.

Straight Down The Beam

The Girls Gymnastics Team had neither an exceptionally good or lousy season, ending the year with a 4-4 record. They started the year with a disappointing loss to West Springfield, 129.1-147.1. During the next match, Lee Hayfield, they placed second over Lee, but they barely lost to Mount Vernon with a scraping 143.1-143.7 defeat. They lost also to Fort Hunt, but came back with an exceptional performance against Lee, where the team made their highest score of the season, 151.2-148.4. During the end of the season, they gained momentum and in the last match against Groveton and Edison, the team whipped their opponents with the scores: Lake Braddock 133.7, Groveton 123.8, Edison 101.6. In District Competition the team came in sixth, and Erin Murphy placed third on Floor Exercise with a score of 7.85.

Silently Climbing To Number One

With more support and enthusiasm this year, the Swim and Dive Team had grown in spirit and the will to win.

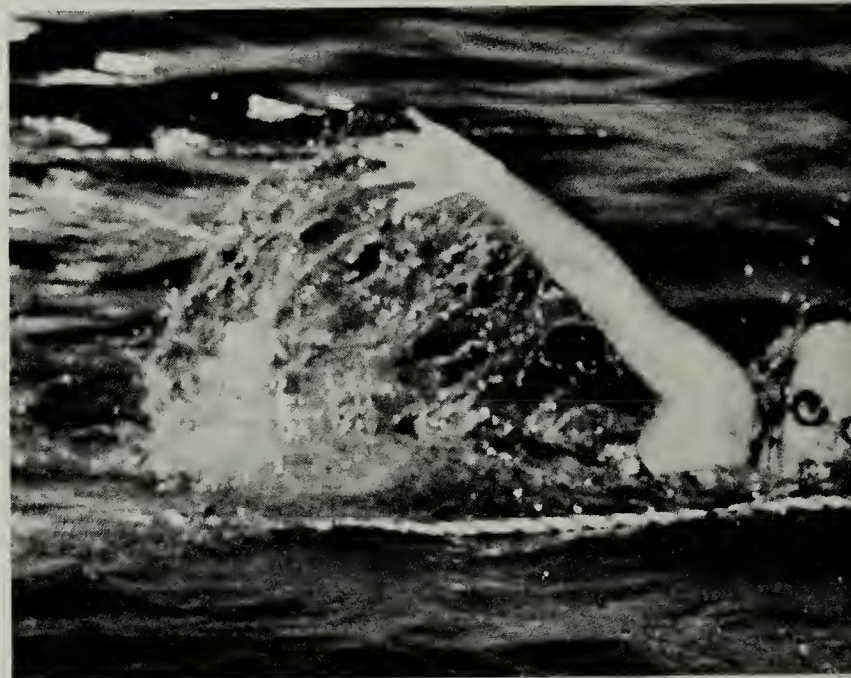

Since November, the team, started their quest for district champions. Practice was everyday at area indoor pools. Working each day on strokes (free-style, back, breast, and butterfly) and diving was the agenda for practice.

Captains Donna Woodcock, Steve Galvin, and Mike West (diving) started their swimming and diving careers just like others because of interest and instruction long ago. Each worked to perfect his or her individual talents.

The season started with placing first in a Relay Carnival in the Gunston District in swimming and diving. Then the silent but steady climb to the top started, ending with the win over Fort Hunt, last year's state champions.

BUSY YEAR FOR JUNIORS

Juniors had a busy year; a year filled with activities sighted towards the ending of high school and the beginning of the future. They started to tie up loose ends of school life.

Late in the season, Fall Festival offered an opportunity for the most spirited class to prove themselves top. Although the Junior class had shown little enthusiasm previously, weeks of preparation and painstaking work paid-off in the prize for the best class float.

Junior class privileges were not easy to come by, in fact, they were almost unheard of. Promises for a great senior year were all that kept the class going. Money raising car washes, bake sales and dances helped to prepare for the long expected graduation. Juniors concerned with their future found PSAT's and SAT's added to their burden of worries. Grade point averages and class ranks became common talk throughout the class, and college choices were repeatedly changed.

Specialized classes were held geared towards a career or an introduction to a different life style. These classes included such fields as sociology, Distributive-Education and Cosmotology. All these activities were a preparation for the next year and for the years to come. Most Juniors were concerned with their future and that of the world which is an encouraging sign for tomorrow.

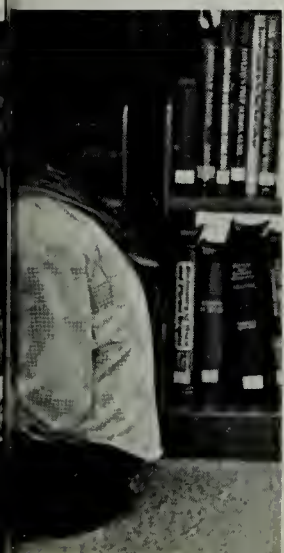

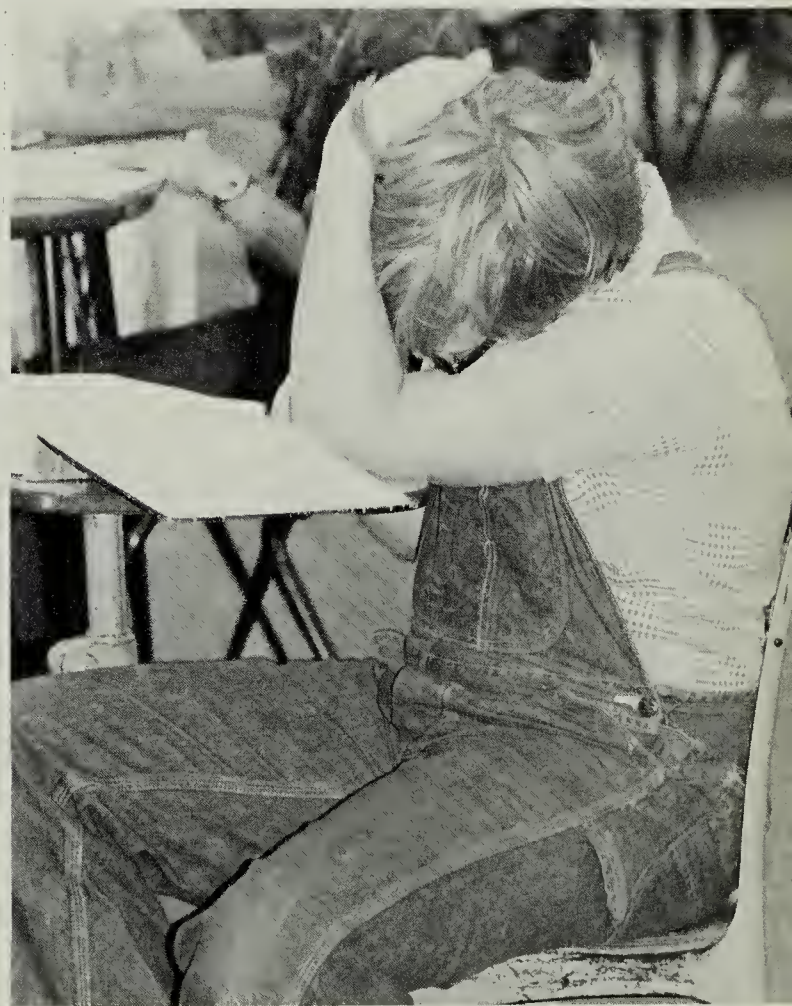

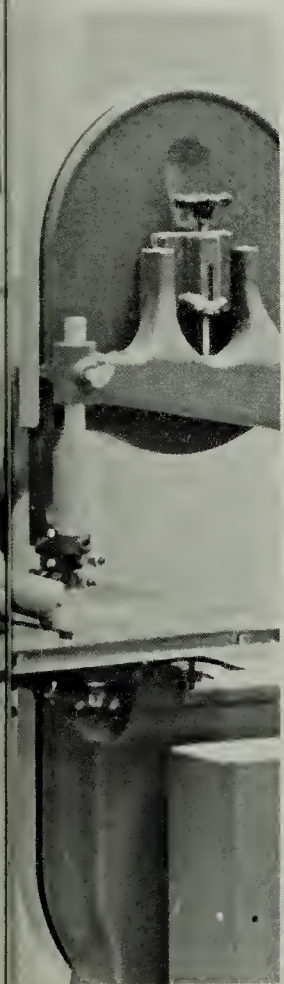

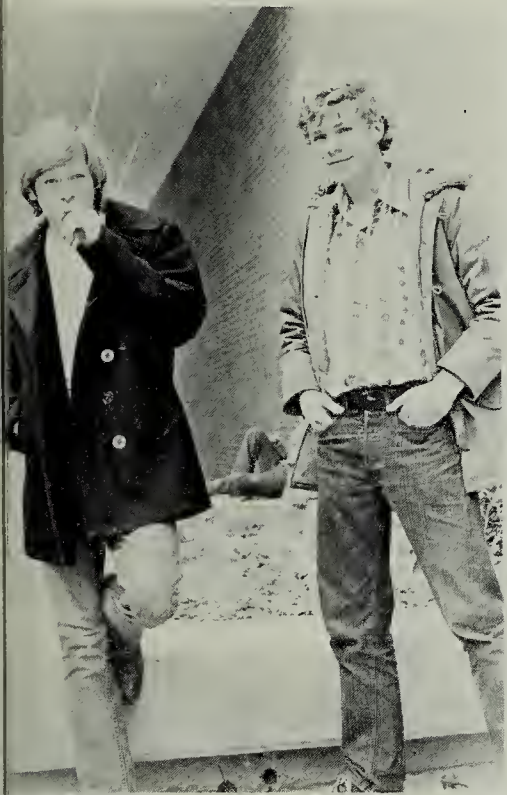

Relaxed, Hank Corscadden and Paul Martin find an unusual place to sit.

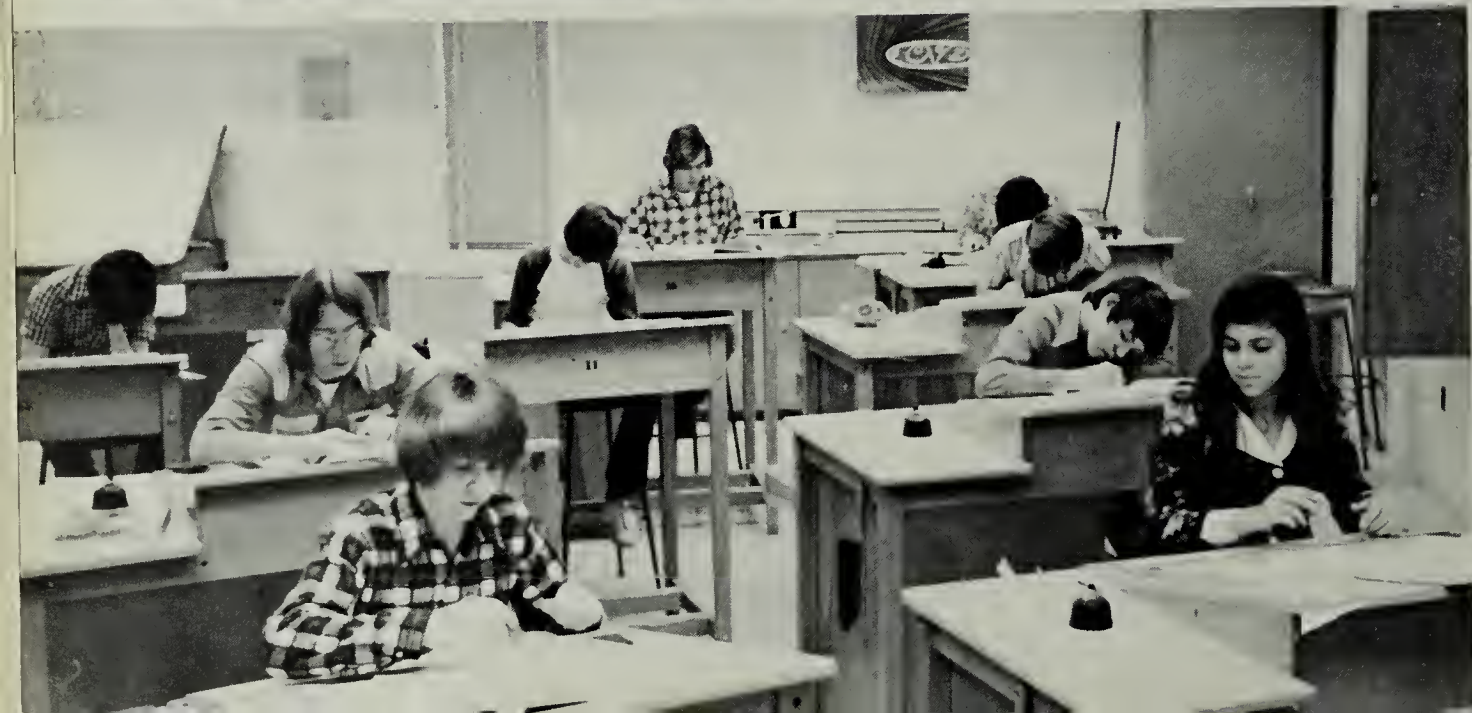

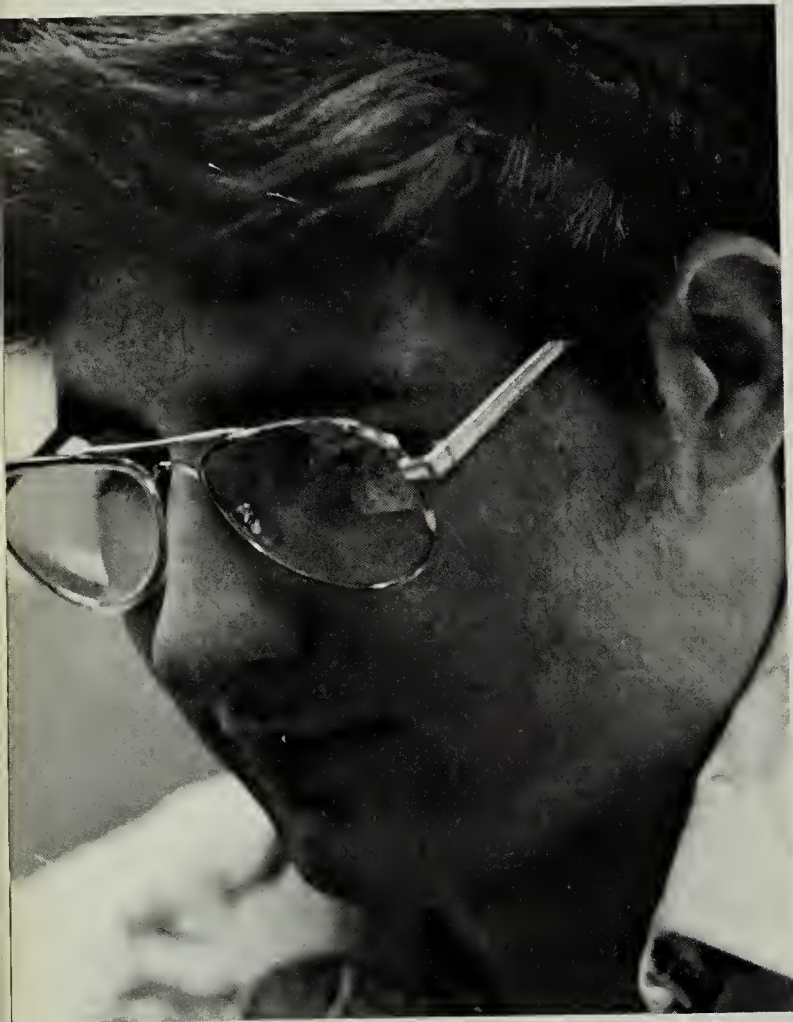

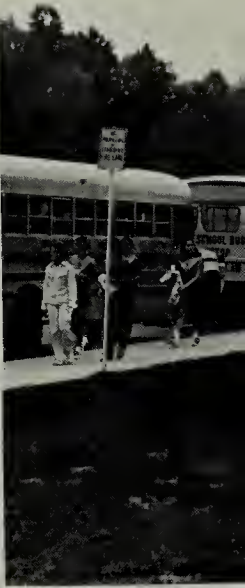

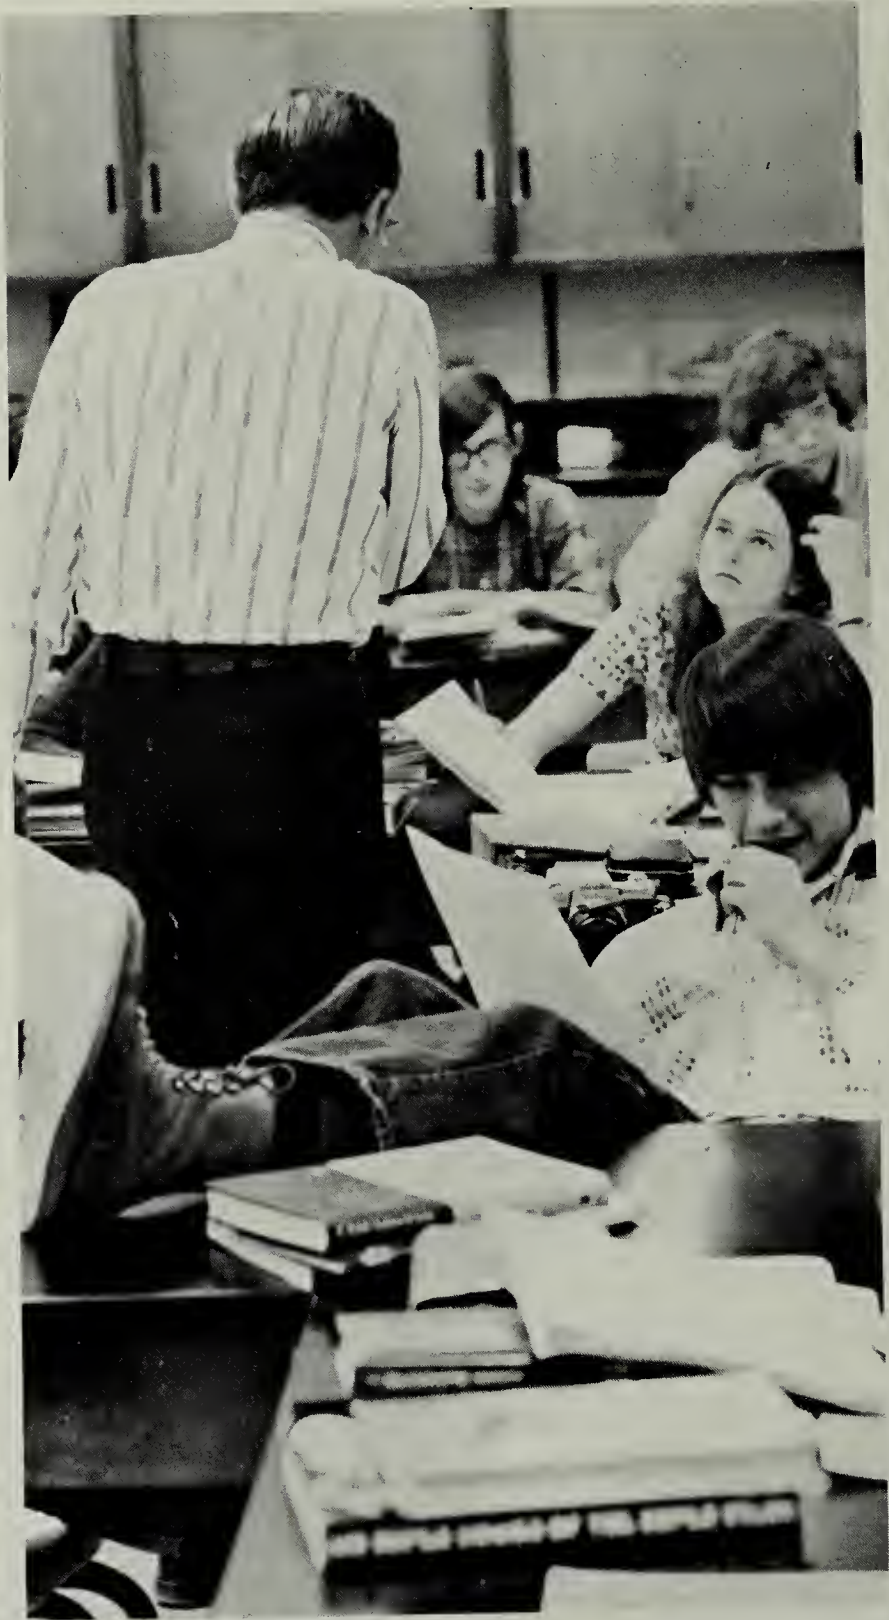

PEOPLE, people, PEOPLE.

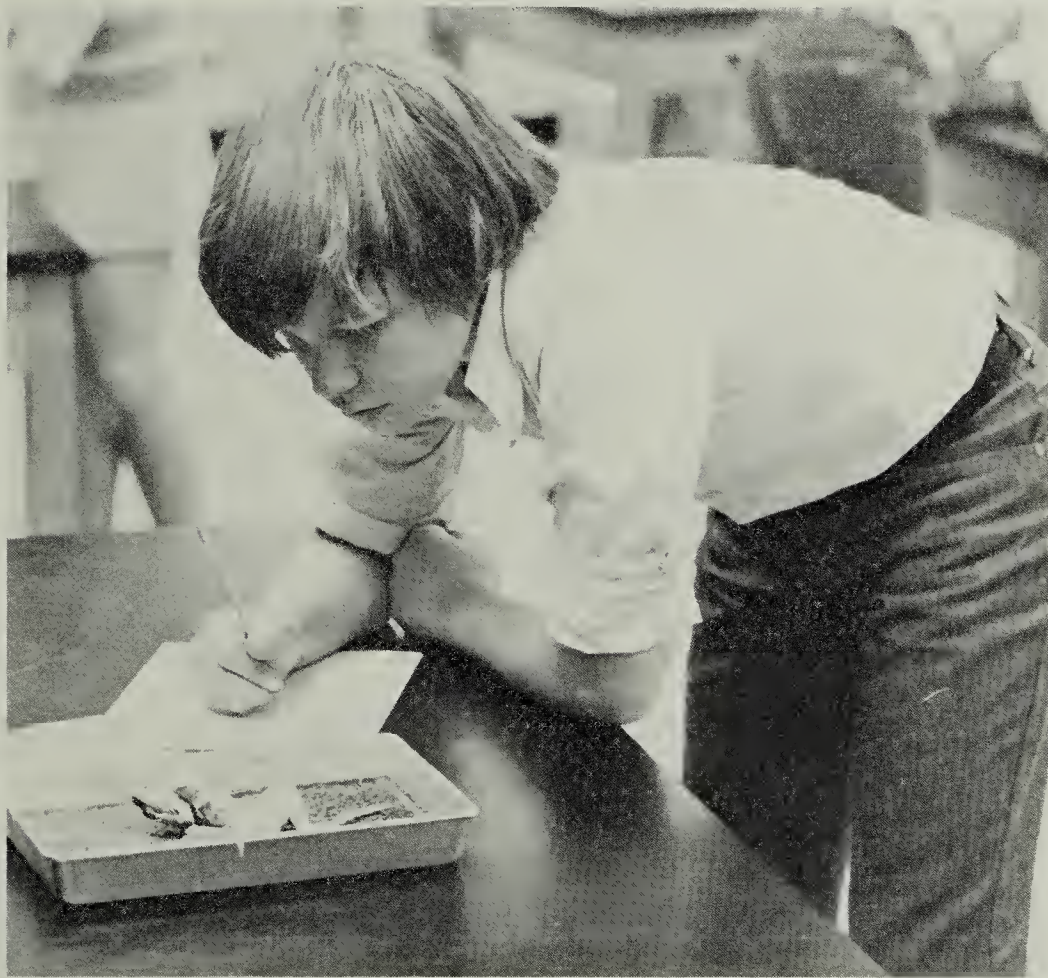

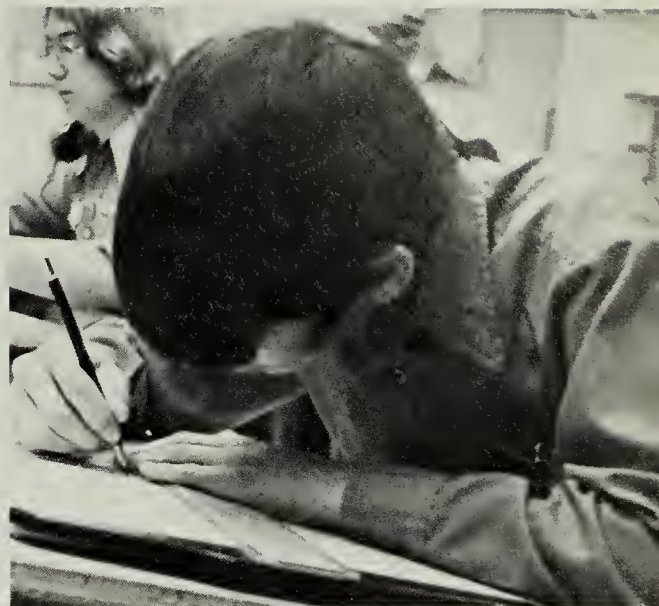

PEOPLE, PEOPLE . . .

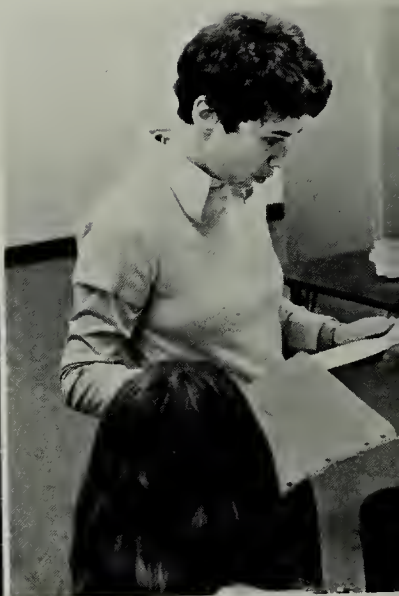

...AND MORE PEOPLE,

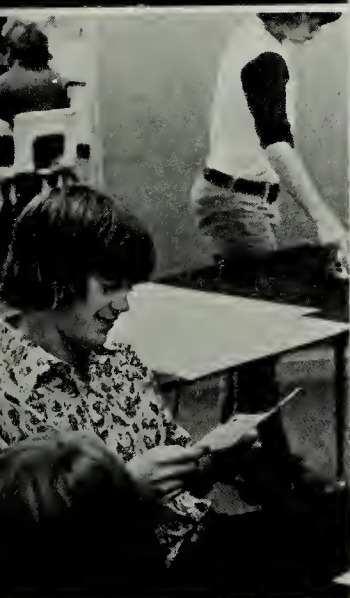

PEOPLE, PEOPLE, PEOPLE.

Teacher's Evaluation

A teacher's evaluation of teaching in the open classroom. After an interview with Miss Dunn her hobbies and interests were found to be in tennis, shows, plays and bike riding. She finds many advantages to teaching in an open classroom. Miss Dunn says, "A school without walls creates an overall effect of openness between students and faculty." In English, Miss Dunn is teaching a unit on Poverty and Technology Revolution. She says, "The youth should be aware of these problems today and in the future. It is an essential part of one's education."

Maturity and the Music Dept.

When asked to compare this school year from last school year, Mr. Fant said that he thought the students were a year older both physically and mentally. He thinks that the students seem to be approaching their studies more diligently. For example, a lot were worried about how they did on their PSAT's. He also feels that the students feel closer to L.B. than last year. For Mr. Fant, there is no normal day and sometimes that varies his hours. He also thinks that the majority of the students think that the teachers are there to help them. When asked what a subschool principal handles, he said he was in charge of the Home Ec. and Music Depts. His hobbies include motorcycle riding, water skiing, rooting for special teams and horseback riding when his daughter lets him! Mr. Fant, the principal of Subschool 6 has done a great job. Thanks!

Food...Our Part Of The World

Home economics uses much of the food in the school. Is there some way we can conserve food there?

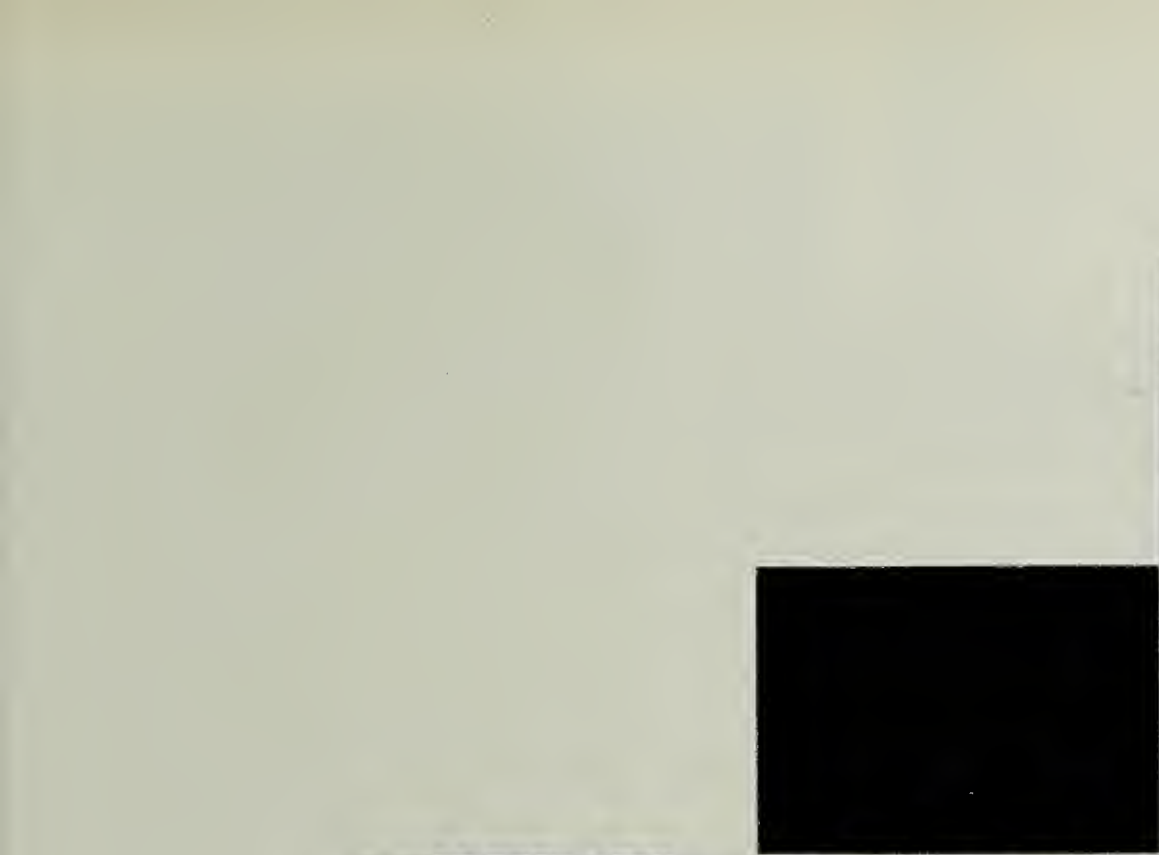

The food shortages of Bangladesh and Africa may seem remote and far away but the food problem hit us at Lake Braddock and was beginning to show. Prices, in the cafeteria went up as much as fifty-percent, and spaghetti, fish and tacos appeared on the menu more and more often. None of this had to be. If we each did our part of the bargain of conserving food, then there would have been no problem. But we were not living up to our side and very few people did. The waste that appeared in the cafeteria was appalling. Many times it was our own fault. The sweet potatoes or peas set before us may have been very nutritious, but they were not to our personal liking and were thrown into the trash masher with little or no thought to the money or the waste. On the other hand, how many times did we get cold french fries, and who can forget the day they served us a weiner with sauerkraut, corn, mashed potatoes, a roll and yellow cake with white icing? A concentrated effort should have been made by the cafeteria people to serve more attractive, nutritious lunches that wouldn't be such a strain on the world food supply or the budget. Junk foods should have been completely removed from the scene, since they had little or no nutritional value as well as being expensive. An extended effort should have been made on the students part to eat foods that were good for them. Many asked, "If Lake Braddock adopted the aforementioned proposals would it really make that much difference?" The answer was of course, no, but as quoted from a time honored television commercial, "You can't save the whole world; only a little part of it." Don't you think its worth it?

could have been eaten?

BIZARRE happenings

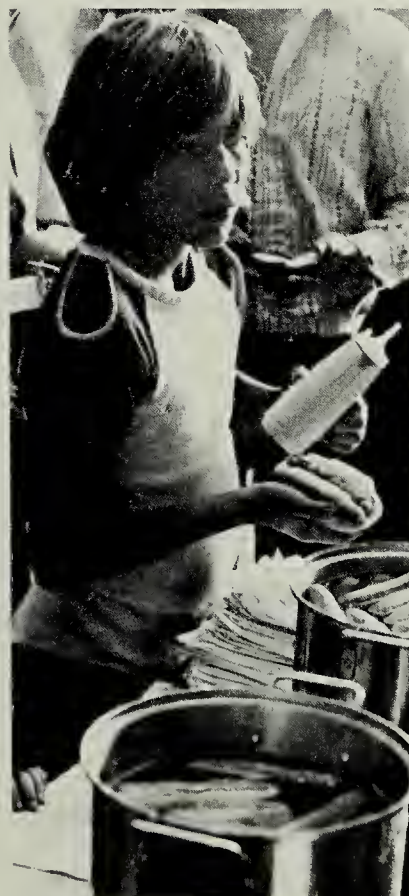

Fall Festival came into its final day with the Boosters Club bazaar. After a thrilling victory over Chantilly Friday night, Saturday's events were justly deserved celebrations.

Throughout the day strange and bizarre sights could be seen everywhere. At nine o'clock the marching band and the band front, participated in a parade down Burke Lake Road. Soon after the fun and games began. With more than twenty booths a refreshment stand, pony rides, and a continuous Bingo game, many people found their money slipped away much too quickly. By far the most exciting and popular booth was the Dunk-A Teacher Booth, where students attempted to drown their favorite faculty members. Throughout the day musical groups performed for the entertainment of hundreds of spectators. At the close of the day thousands of dollars had been collected.

The conclusion of the entire Fall Festival began Saturday night with the Fall Festival Dance. The queen Leslie Dembinski, crowned the night before, reigned over the dance. The band performing was "Blaze". The dance was a great success and was a proper ending for a totally successful Fall Festival Week.

Try This On For Size

Displays appeared in subschools five and six as talk stirred of the class rings. Controversy was made over the style, but a Jr. class vote quickly decided the design of our first school ring. The first graduating class of LB got their rings with much excitement and enthusiasm. With these rings, we realized we were one step closer to becoming a completed school.

Trying on rings, we see an example of what they looked like.

Crises of the "peace" war (Vietnam) and stagflation. President Ford realizes what's ahead in order for us to bring inflation down.

INFLATION STEPS UP

On August 9, 1974, President Richard Milhouse Nixon became the first Chief Executive of the United States ever to resign. The events leading to his resignation were the burglary of the Democratic Headquarters in the Watergate Hotel on May 28, 1972, and the following cover-up. With the threat of impeachment knocking on his door, Mr. Nixon finally relinquished the presidency and its duties to Vice-President Gerald Rudolph Ford, Jr.

During the end of Nixon's resignation, inflation played a heavy roll in the lives of every American, including ourselves. Since all of us were voters in the making, the impact of watching the government deteriorate and prices soar proved to be the main factor in our lack of confidence.

completion in September brought us a step closer to efficiency in relaying the action.

A VISUAL MOVE

Upon arriving on that first day, and the days that followed, a few changes were evident. Landscaping of the school grounds added a neater touch in appearance along with carpeting for the interior. The P. E. department expanded outdoors with the completion of our fields, also allowing us to compete at home.

Out of all these little "plusses" grew something we hadn't noticed before. It came through an awakened enthusiasm that got everyone involved. Apathy was put away and spirit was exposed. We took a step in the right direction.

Executing a ground galner during P. E. class, some of us take advantage of being able to use our recently completed fields.

GO AHEAD AND TRY

Like everyone else, we looked towards the future. This idealism showed up in many ways, from looking forward to graduation to wishing that the weekend would hurry up and come. One of the most eagerly awaited events appeared to be when a student could finally get his driver's license.

To some of us, having a driver's license was a symbol of prestige. Early walkers, bus riders, cyclists, and occasionally a car or two appeared every morning. But, when we tried to park our cars, we were treated like common criminals. Faculty and administrators patrolled the parking lot in search of cars without parking permits. When an illegally parked car was discovered, a warning was given. After three such warnings, the car would be towed away. So go ahead and try!

Tagging already done, towing away won't be necessary this time.

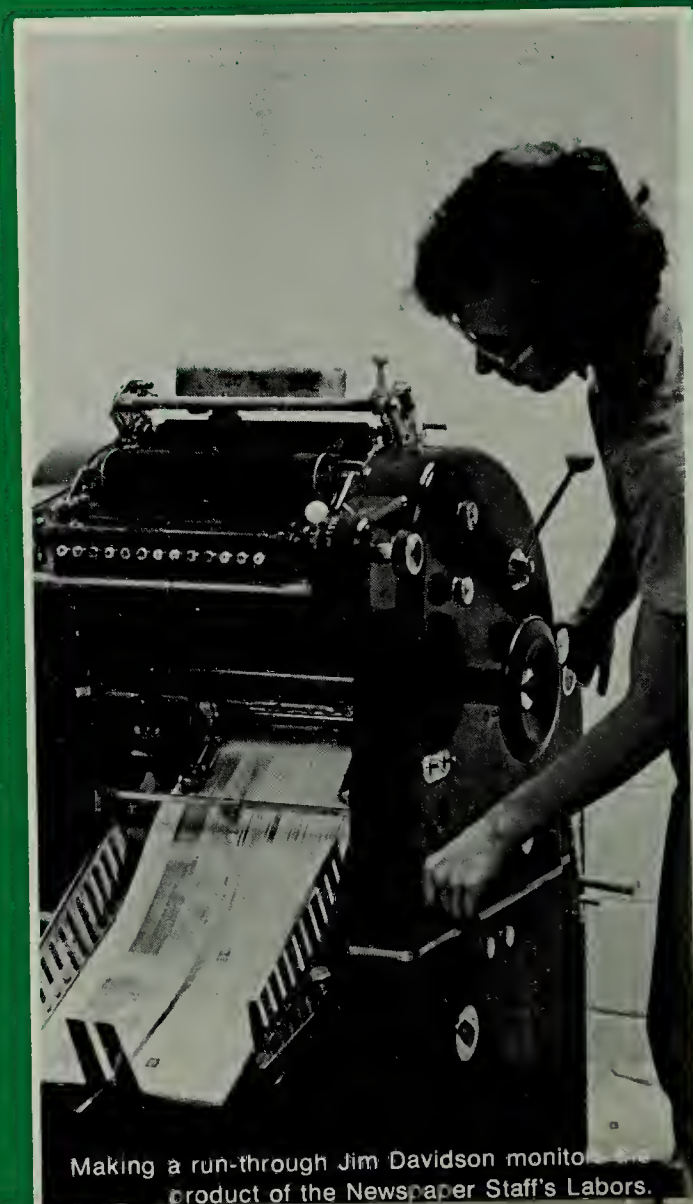

Handling the money during lunch is a job Mrs. Holoos takes care of.

STEP RIGHT UP

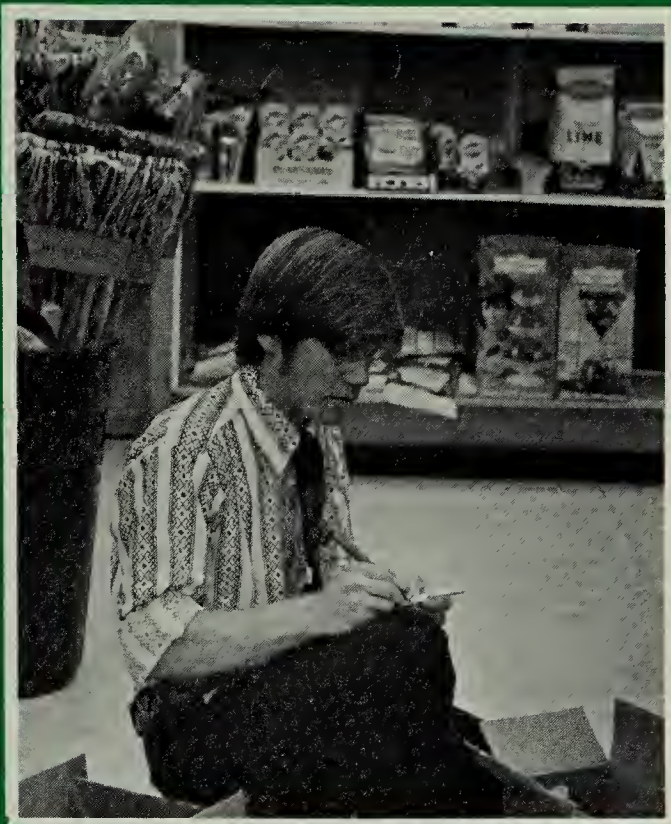

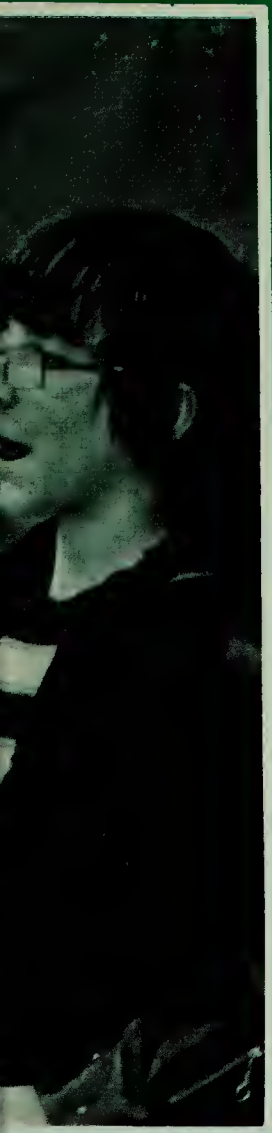

Everyone had a job; whether it was for the school's benefit, or for personal satisfaction, all students had a chore. Many times you would see students in the halls selling candy, ribbons to arouse school spirit for the next football game, and tickets to the various school activities. And on those after school and weekend shopping sprees, you would always run into a friend working at your favorite store or restaurant. We were learning about business and getting one step up on the ladder of success.

SCHOOL BECOMES SPLIT

Experimentation produced format in the space of fifteen minutes. What was this format? T/A-Teacher Advisor, a different approach to handling guidance. Instead of just having a formal counselor for each grade level (a regular counselor was provided, however) every faculty member received a group of students. Teachers conducted what they felt enriched and aided us, while we created a stir of opinion. Echoes of discontent came back at first, but with the summer planning of Mr. Alwood, teachers, and students, we perfected our old plan of attack so that gradually the complaints faded to quiet murmurs. T/A became another groove in the daily life of students. We started to process the idea in our minds and found that fifteen minutes came out looking better than when the concept went in.

Doing the unusual, Lynn Dyer gets a little exercise during T/A.

BEING A YEAR OLD IS NEW

"I can't believe how different this school is than the school I recently attended. On the first day, I was greeted by four walls. I couldn't believe it. That was it—four walls.

After getting used to the building, I felt more secure. When someone mentioned auto mechanics, cosmetology, or drama, I knew what was happening and where.

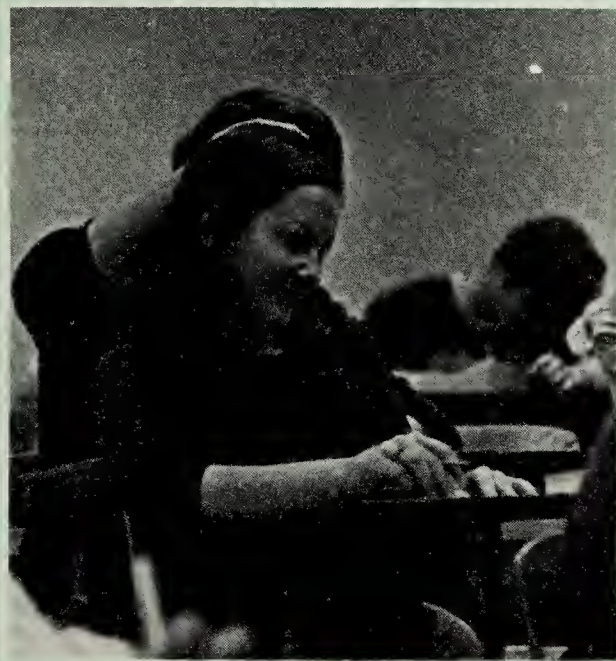

I found out students worked on an individualized basis, but the sharing of ideas between students . . . and teachers and students was encouraged. I was really surprised by the great relationships between students and teachers, and for that matter students and students. It's been a good step for me!"

GET ME BY

Due to the increase in the number of students, the halls had become as bad as the Beltway at five o'clock. While the newer models buzzed by in a rush to get to their destination, the wiser, more experienced models patiently made their way through the traffic jam. Using five minutes to get from one place to another proved to be a real challenge. People stopping to socialize created hazardous road blocks, which sometimes could not be avoided. Since we were such a big school, paths of travel stretched endlessly. Out-of-the-way lockers caused another hassle. Existing in this crowded situation brought us one step closer together.

Coming from the band room, Brian Friberg thinks about his last class.

While waiting for a friend, John Pittman relaxes in his favorite meeting

No time was wasted when it came to getting to our two favorite hangouts-the lunch room and student lounge. During breaks between classes, students went to the lounge for a fast cigarette and some small talk. Smoking didn't hide in the student lounge, though. It remained out in the open like the rest of our building.

The cafeteria hostesses never thought they'd see us actually pushing and racing to get through that lunch line. Compared to the number of us who ventured in before . . .

for students.

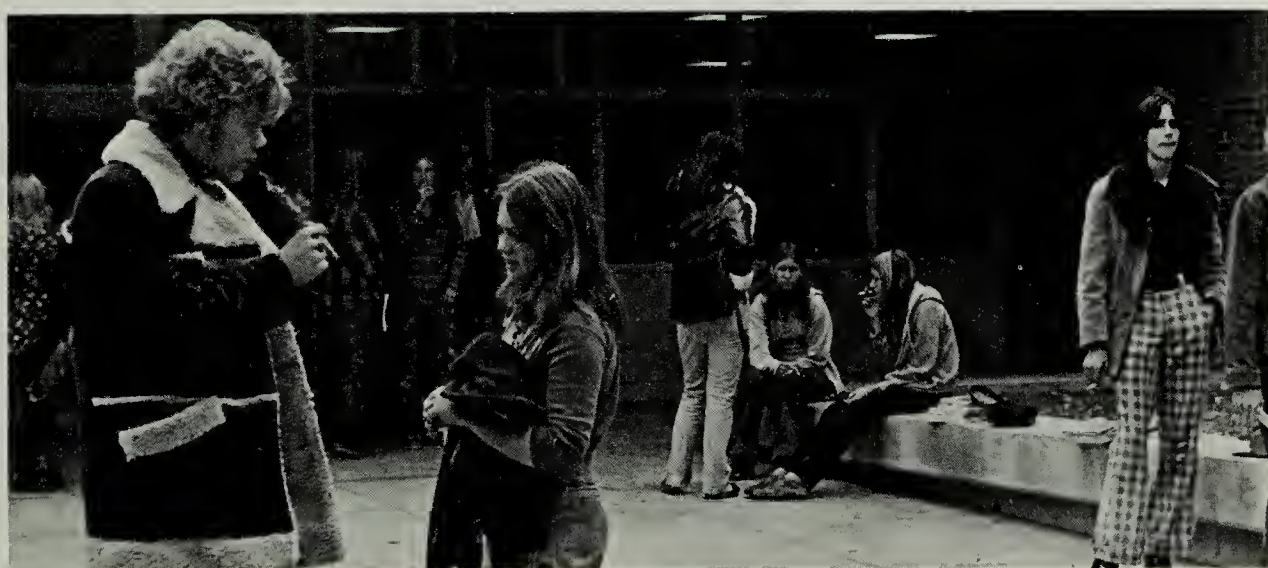

Avoiding the cafeteria rush, Mark Abregu takes advantage of the vacated space in sub school six to finish his work for the next class.

. . . the change in size seemed shocking. Four lunch shifts were set up to try to ease the bulk, but some students thought lunch ended up twice as crowded.

With visions of squeezing through crowds facing us everyday, we wondered if there would be time to eat and talk to friends. If lunch wasn't long enough, lines weren't short enough. So while some of us stuck it out in the lunch room, others of us decided to avoid the food scene altogether and stepped out to relax in the lounge.

ALL

OF THE EYE

Some called it "The Grapevine" others called it "Rumors" but most of us labeled it "Gossip". Whatever the label, we showed no lack of speedy communication in areas referring to who's with whom, and who did what. As a matter of fact, when a good news item leaked out, it spread like wild fire. Anyone who had taken typing knew that the typewriter rollers revealed very interesting observations and opinions. The ever-popular note did not dwindle in usage here either. In fact, notes always remained the rage. But always first and running hard was word of mouth.

Lending a helping hand, LyNaye Starfield clarifies Dawn Chace's misunderstandings.

Stepping Into Style

With the many different sized and shaped people found in our school, we had quite a variety of unique and different dress styles. Knee-length skirts and sweaters became the rage for the well-dressed female student, while matching pant and jacket suits were worn by the males. However, the casual look still remained. Comfortable overalls, jeans and decorated T-shirts were a part of everyone's wardrobe. Decorative socks and clunky shoes became popular as the year went by, as did the shorter hair for girls.

Walking became more colorful in decorated socks and platform shoes.

boys in our school.

Old favorites always held their own when it came to viewing screen releases and tuned-on shows, and that's how it was for us.

The survey of a cross section of the school proved that comedy and cops ran the race of types of TV shows available for viewing. Mixing in a little nostalgia on the side, we found, for the most part, that violence and laughter could exist side by side.

On the big screen, suspenseful drama brought in crowds while comedy cruised along, taking the top spot. Although having to pay as much as $3.00 to get in turned some of us away, movie-going remained a favorite pastime.

SUPER SUNDAY

Spending a few moments to say what a building stands for out of the tremendous amount of hours it will spend in operation is what a dedication is all about. And in this case, a dedication was placed upon the people within these walls, rather than the building itself, because all of us were important in making a school more than just a place to learn.

Touching a hand and finding a friend, talking it out and understanding; these things all came along with the metal and cement. In case one might have wondered why, maybe it was just simple enough to take out a little time to recognize that education is people, and people is Lake Braddock.

DRILL TEAM PROVES THEIR SKILL

On Sunday, Feb. 16, at 1:35 the 8th grade drill team was commended for their skill and performance. They performed at the Capital Center for the crowd as well as the New York Knicks and the Washington Bullets. The girls succeeded in proving their skills through half-time shows at the Frosh, J.V., and Varsity football games to basketball games. A lot of time and effort was given by Mrs. Mikula, Mrs. Ripley, and the girls to bring Lake Braddock one step closer to success in club activities.

Splish, Splash? No, it was not the Swim and Dive team, it was, the Skin and Scuba club, a new club this year among the many others. The Skin and Scuba club was divided into two groups: The certified members who had scuba-dived, and the members who were not certified, or had never scuba-dived before. The certified members helped the beginning members learn more about Scuba diving. They reviewed much of the psychology (body function underwater) and the physics of diving. They planned to look into some places such as swimming pools, and some places outdoors. The club itself was designed so that students could meet other students and learn more about Skin and Scuba diving.

V.I.C.A. PROMOTES PRIDE AND LEADERSHIP

V.I.C.A., Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, was a national organization, which promoted pride and leadership in the vocational field. Its purpose was also to let other students in the school be aware that students in the vocational field were not "a bunch of dum dums", said Mr. Demalleville, sponsor. The boys in Auto Mechanics held many contests and came out a "winner" every time. For example, the Rodeo Contest last fall was won by Donny Jones, who won the Overall Driver Trophy against his fellow students. The students at Lake Braddock held a contest against Edison in Trouble Shooting and came up with: First, Ed Shoemaker; Second, Jeff Rosenthal (both from West Springfield); and Third, Phil Hall from Lake Braddock. Twelve boys from West Springfield came to Lake Braddock daily to work on cars, and the other nineteen members were from Lake Braddock. V.I.C.A. was a very worthwhile organization for students who would rather take up a vocational trade than go to college.

A.Y.D. WORKS WITH YOUTH

Assisting Youth Development was an activity of the Fairfax County Red Cross chapters youth program. A group of selected high school juniors and sophomores conducted "rap" sessions in sixth grade classrooms. They discussed any problems or anxieties that the elementary students had concerning life in the intermediate and high schools. Hopefully, these sessions would smooth the transition to higher grade levels for them.

During 6th period, Mrs. Strokes and Lisa Bartholomew discuss the subjects they will talk about with the 6th graders.

SATURNALIA HELD AT L.B.

The surprised face of the "Mystery Body" is Spencer Biles at a Latin Club party.

At a Latin party Sandy Lovell and Steve Marlin attempt to eat a swinging apple.

The Roman "Saturnalia" was held at Lake Braddock on Dec. 11, 1974, in celebration of the festival of the god Saturn. About fifty Lake Braddock students attended the banquet and participated in many contests. A king and queen was chosen out of the six schools. Chosen for king was Andrew Brockie of Robinson and Colleen Gowans of Lake Braddock. Lake Braddock won the cash prize from among six other high schools as the best costumed group of Latin students at the banquet. Now L.B. is not just known for sports but many clubs like the Latin are becoming one step closer to competitive popularity.

ECOLOGY STARTS OFF WITH A BANG!

The Ecology Club was active in starting a recycling center for the Lake Braddock Secondary School Community. In December of 1974, a newspaper dumpster was placed in the parking lot near the Vocational Education Building.

This recycling center served to meet the club's commitment to the Johnny Horizon Bicentennial Clean-up program and provided funds for landscaping the student lounge.

When the lounge was complete it would contain plants and full length sand-filled ash trays in the large planters with benches and trees located in the grass area.

The Ecology Club was also working on a project of assemblies for Earth Week in connection with the President's Environmental Merit Awards Program. Future plans of the club included: petitions for mandatory deposits on non-returnable beverage containers, complete soil analysis, plant population studies on the Lake Braddock property, and continued landscaping of the school grounds.

Counting pennies from the Ecology money drive are Keith Chilcote, Diane Glazener and Laird Steinberg.

Bowling at Annandale Bowling Alley, Joe Artazone looks to see his pins.

During half-time the 7th and 8th grade drill team provides the audience with some entertainment.

While in 6th period journalism, Mr. McCarthy explains headline setting to some of his students.

Discussing each others ideas is the main key with the Keyettes.

RIP VAN WINKLE FIRST DRAMA PRODUCTION

Many long hard hours pay off for Angela Wacket as she runs the light board with Chris Benoit.

"I loved doing Rip, but I grew seven inches and was taller than Greg Chadwick, my father in the play."
Craig Stewert

"It was a lot of hard work and many hours but it was worth it." Robin Wambold

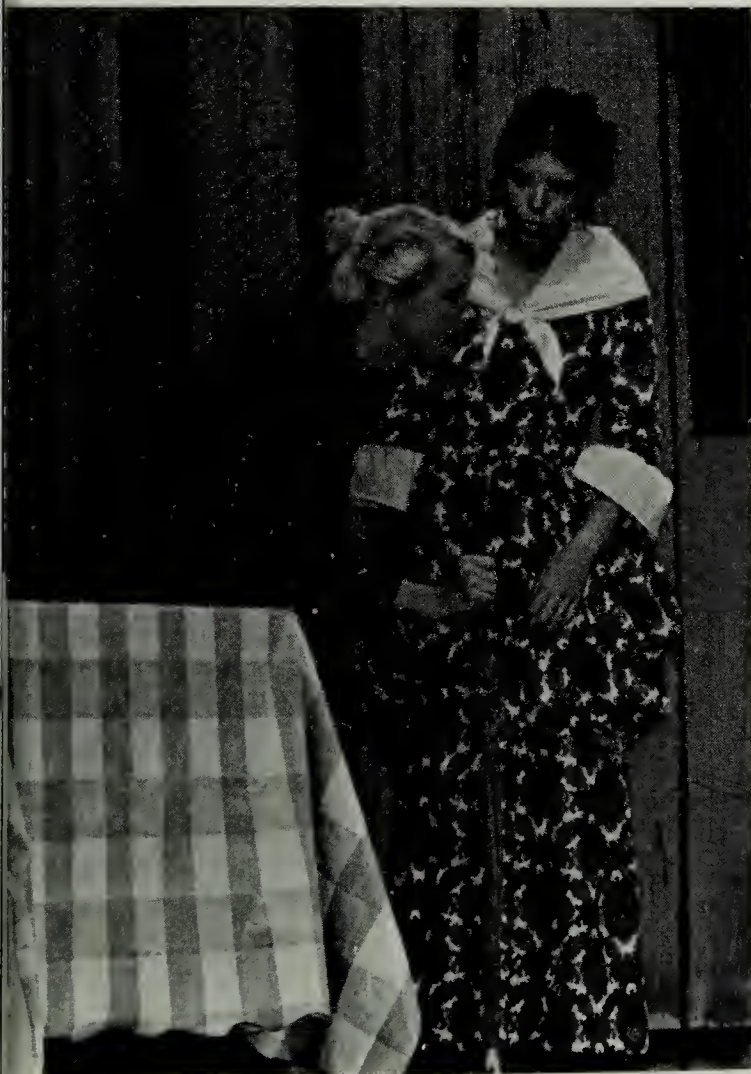

A perplexing moment for Peter Molica, Mark Russell, David Alley and Julie and Kathy Ripley patiently wait for their cue.

n Craig during the first act of RIP.

The old Mrs. Von Beekman (Sue Newell) tells her troubles to her daughter Anna (Janice Holden).

The house lights dimmed and an anxious murmur from the audience arose. RIP VAN WINKLE, Lake Braddocks first drama production was about to take place. A seven month wait for the completion of the Little Theater seemed to increase the importance of the play's success.

The performance of Rip by David Alley left little to be desired. His entrance from the left of the theater through the aisles, left many children in amazement as he reached out to shake their hands. Erin O'Donnell played the part of Rip's intolerable wife with such expert expression, you could understand Rip's fear of her. Although a minor part, Pamela Craig playing "Wolf", the dog, stole the show and created a humor not otherwise shown. As she barked and snarled at Peter Mollica who was the crafty, scheming Darrick Von Beekman the audience could barely control their laughter.

Amazing as well as amusing, was the excellent timing of the polka dancers as they danced with precision around the stage. The gnomes seemed to have an air of eeriness about them as they gracefully went through the movements of bowling as sounds of thunder filled the green air.

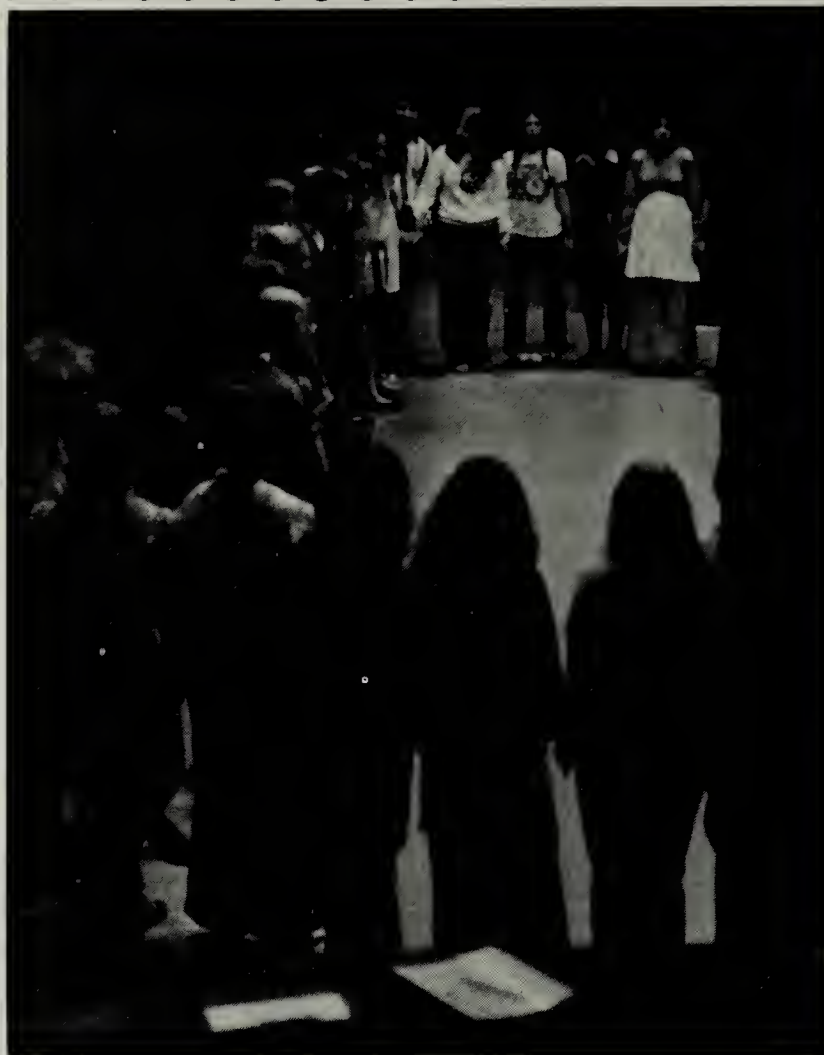

At the final curtain call David Alley takes his bows and the cast gives him a deserving hand.

The direction of RIP was under Mr. Pat Jones, Jr. whose hard work became apparent throughout the entire production. Ann Ripley served as choreographer and instilled a certain gracefulness in all that she worked with. Besides those who appeared in public on the stage, there were all those unsung crewmen, who had no curtain calls but without whose work the play could not have gone on. If Rip was referring to the play when he asked "Are we so soon forgotten when we are gone?" He wouldn't have to worry because "RIP VAN WINKLE" Lake Braddock's first drama production will always be remembered, as one step closer to a drama department which regularly "Struts and frets its hour upon the stage".

CHILDRENS THEATER

The play EMPERORS NEW CLOTHES, opened in the summer during CHILDRENS SUMMER THEATER. It was recast in September and produced on the dates of September 27,28 and October 2 and 5. With a cast of seventy, the students were able to divide into two casts, giving more students a chance to perform. Craig Chadwick portrayed the Emperor, Peter Mollica and Spike Shepherd played the Prime Minister and Maude Rappaport along with Gwen Hickling were the empresses.

Behind the curtain, Mr. Jones instructs the cast in becoming one body instead of individual actors.

Backstage in the dressing room, Jimmy Staght applies his own make-up.

Before a performance, Liz Cockran vacuums the theater as part of her job as an usher.

The entire cast of EMPERORS NEW CLOTHES led by Craig Chadwick as the Emperor gets off to a good start.

During their shimmering modern dance, Kim and Kay Teachout entertain the audience.

From the movie THE STING, Brian Miller plays it's theme song THE ENTERTAINER.

From the 50's era, Claiborne Richardson, belts out a song called Daddy's home.

The Entertainers

This year's talent show was put on in late January, a three month postponement from it's original date. The theme was THE ENTERTAINERS, and the stage was dressed up as a night club with covered tables and potted palms. Parents sat around the tables on the stage, drank real ginger-ale and received a thrill when some of the entertainers flirted harmlessly with our principal Mr. Alwood. There were many acts all achieving superior rating. They included tap dancers, singers, instrumental solos, modern dances and gymnastic-type dances.

Two sisters, Linda and Pam Barnes sing Cat Steven's MOON SHADOW to the tune of the guitar.

Well know to all of Lake Braddock, the Dynamics revive SWEET GYPSY ROSE.

book helps Lisa Ray, Pat Young, and Michelle Forney learn together.

...BUT THESE ARE JUST THE FIRST OF MANY STEPS.

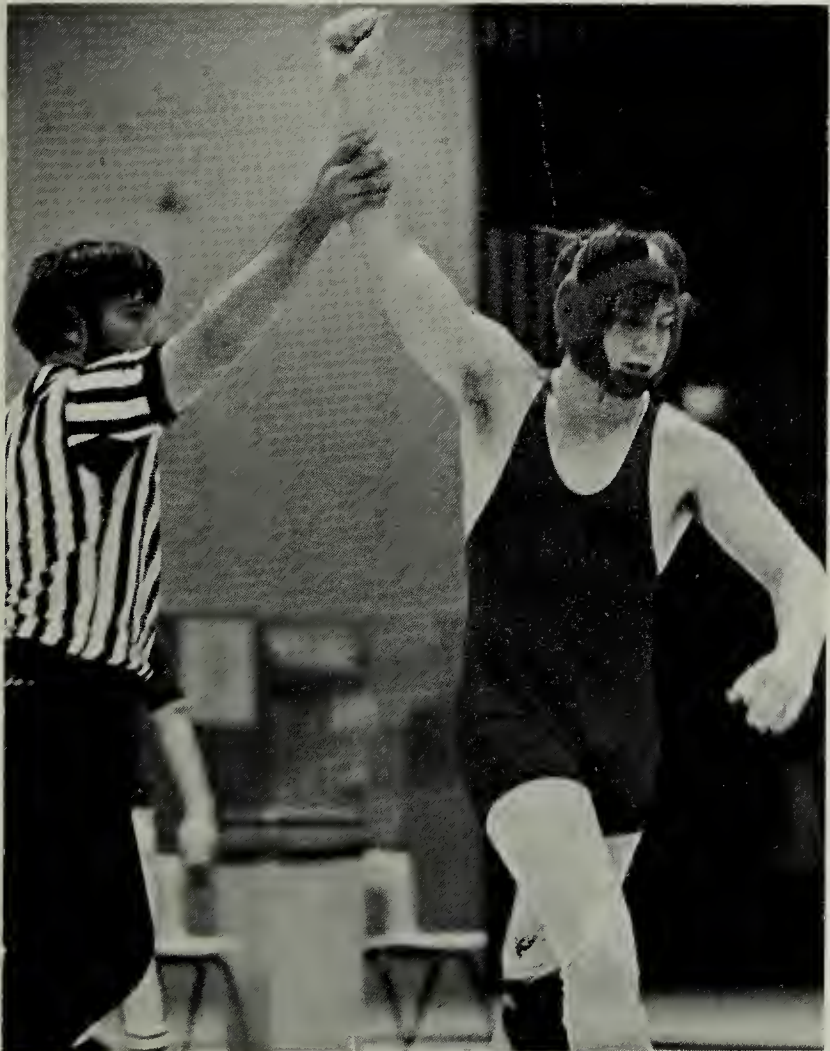

We came to Lake Braddock with more security and adaptations than before. Our feelings toward student to teacher and student to student relations grew. Working with each other made us realize how we had to bind together to function as a whole.

During half time, Coach Thompson fills Scott Campbell in on the game plan for the rest of the game.

Bringing a friend to the game, Therese Gerdon adds school spirit.

Self-satisfaction to Adam Rubin is walking away with a victory.

THERE ARE

In our district, J.V., Freshman and Varsity teams strived for titles, awards and special honors. The desire alone brought out school spirit among all. Being recognized in sports turned out to be something everyone was proud of. We bonded together to support our school and to compete in a variety of sports.

Success characterized our sport season as we won a district title. Having a new varsity team proved to be a great experience. Our Varsity Football Team defeated the Chantilly Chargers for the first time at the Fall Festival. Freshman Wrestling finished as number one, and Girls Tennis surpassed others with 8 wins, 1 loss. All participating in sports achieved the unity through devotion, determination and cooperation.

Before rehearsal, the completed Little Theatre looks barren.

Getting started on the Freshman float requires lots of time, patience and flowers.

Learning history a new way, students get down and dig.

EACH ONE OF THESE STEPS BRINGS US CLOSER TO OUR GOAL.

To someone else what we have striven for may seem very insignificant, but to us, our unity was a giant step. Lake Braddock began as an inspiration, but developed into fact. We will reach our final steps growing in size and knowledge through our efforts and rewarding experiences. We will have searched and arrived at something only time could settle. Each of our achievements this year brought us one step closer.

The 1974-75 Lair was printed in offset lithography, by Inter-Collegiate Press Incorporated, Shawnee Mission, Kansas. The type style is Newton Medium and the paper stock is double coated 80 pound enamel. The cover was White Shoe grain with Mission Leather grained effect, with two color Silk Screening.

We would like to more than thank a few people.

Mr. Shoun and Ms. Brant, our advisors, who helped us endless hours to make the Lair a success.

Mr. Patterson, our representative from Inter-Collegiate, who came over faithfully, to keep us on our toes.

Mrs. Rubin and the Publications Committee for all the encouragement and help throughout the whole year.

Our staff photographers, Mike Barbuschak, Ken Sharp and Scott Wacker. Contributing photographers were Eric Leeper, Paul Hillery, Jim Lebledz, David Pasztor and Russell Jones.

The Lair staff hopes you really enjoy your book and that you have a great summer.
